IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

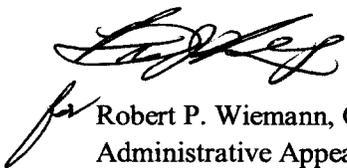

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the California Service Center. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

for Robert P. Wiemann, Chief Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The initial application was denied by the Director, California Service Center (CSC). A subsequent application for re-registration was denied by the director, and is currently before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The initial application will be reopened, sua sponte, by the Chief, AAO, and the case will be remanded for further consideration and action.

The applicant is stated to be a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The applicant filed an initial application for TPS under receipt number WAC 01 214 50123. The director denied the initial application on July 21, 2004, because the applicant had abandoned her application by failing to appear for fingerprinting. The director denied a subsequent motion to reopen on October 18, 2004.

The applicant filed the current Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, on February 2, 2005, and indicated that she was re-registering for TPS.

In this case, the applicant has not previously been granted TPS because she had not appeared for fingerprinting. However, the record reflects that her Citizenship and Immigration Services fingerprinting processing for his TPS application was considered complete on April 12, 2005 and indicated the applicant did not have a criminal history or other record as of that date that would bar her from receiving TPS.

The director's denial of the initial application will be withdrawn; the application will be remanded for a new decision. The director's denial of the application for re-registration is also withdrawn as it is dependent upon the adjudication of the initial application. The director may request any evidence deemed necessary to assist with the determination of the applicant's eligibility for TPS.

It is noted that the burden of proof rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The initial application is reopened, the director's decision is withdrawn, and the application is remanded for a new decision. The re-registration application is remanded for further action consistent with the director's new decision on the initial application.
