IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

for Robert P. Wiemann, Chief Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant claims to be a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed an initial TPS application on January 27, 2004, under Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) receipt number WAC 03 265 53595. The director denied that application on October 6, 2004, because the applicant had failed to establish continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001. Although the applicant was advised that she could appeal the director's decision by filing a completed Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal to the Administrative Appeals Office, within 30 days of the director's decision, the record does not contain evidence that the applicant filed a Form I-290B.

The applicant filed the current Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, on October 27, 2005, and indicated that this is her "first application to register for Temporary Protected Status (TPS)."

The director noted that the applicant had a previously denied TPS application, and because the applicant had not established prima facie eligibility under section 244 of the Act, the subsequent Form I-821 application for Temporary Protected Status shall be denied. Therefore, the director denied the application on April 6, 2006.

On appeal, the applicant's mother asserts that she has been granted TPS and that the applicant is her dependent. She further asserts that the applicant must remain with her because it is dangerous for the applicant to be alone in El Salvador without parents. She submits a copy of her Employment Authorization Card (Category A12) to support her claim.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an alien who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under § 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:

- (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
 - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for parole; or
 - (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of condition described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The term continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual, and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

The term continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

Persons applying for TPS offered to El Salvadorans must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States since February 13, 2001, and that they have been continuously physically present in the United States since March 9, 2001. On July 9, 2002, the Attorney General announced an extension of the TPS designation until September 9, 2003. Subsequent extensions of the TPS designation have been granted, with the latest extension valid until September 9, 2007, upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite time period.

The initial registration period for El Salvadorans was from March 9, 2001, through September 9, 2002. The record shows that the applicant filed the current application with CIS on October 5, 2005.

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by CIS. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof, the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

The record of proceeding confirms that the applicant filed her application after the initial registration period had closed. To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period she fell within at least one of the provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) above.

The applicant, on appeal, submits a copy of the Employment Authorization Card of her mother, Mayra R. Moreno (file A94 313 040), under Category A12, as evidence that she was granted TPS status. Therefore, the applicant, in this case, is eligible for late initial registration as the child of an alien granted TPS pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2)(iv). However, while regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2)(iv) allow children of aliens who are TPS-eligible to file applications after the initial registration period had closed, these regulations do not relax the requirements for eligibility for TPS.

The applicant's Forms I-821, filed on January 27, 2004 and on October 5, 2005, indicate that her date of entry into the United States was January 6, 2003. As provided in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c), the applicant must establish that she has continuously resided in the United States since February 13, 2001, and has been continuously physically present from March 9, 2001, to the date of filing the application. The applicant arrived in the United States subsequent to the eligibility period, on January 6, 2003. Therefore, she could not have met the criteria for continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States during the requisite periods as described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the TPS application will be affirmed.

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
