Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center. It is now on appeal before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO). The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant claims to be a citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application on the grounds that the applicant failed to establish that she was eligible for late TPS registration and failed to submit proof of her identity.

On appeal the applicant requests that her case be reviewed.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national of a state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for Temporary Protected Status during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
 - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
 - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or

- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The phrase continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

The phrase continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

El Salvadoran nationals applying for TPS must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States since February 13, 2001, and that they have been continuously physically present since March 9, 2001. The initial registration period for El Salvadorans was from March 9, 2001, through September 9, 2002. The applicant filed her initial Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, on April 28, 2005 – more than two and one-half years after the end of the initial registration period.

To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period she met at least one of the conditions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) above.

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS). See 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. See 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

On March 22, 2006, the service center requested the applicant, who claims to have entered the United States without inspection on April 6, 1999, to submit evidence that she was eligible for late registration and met the continuous residence and continuous physical presence requirements for TPS applicants from El Salvador, as well as evidence of her date of entry into the United States, her nationality, and her identity. On April 11, 2006, the applicant responded with some evidence pertaining to her residence and physical presence in the United States

On April 20, 2006, the director issued a Notice of Decision, finding that the evidence established the applicant's continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States since the dates applicable for TPS applicants from El Salvador, but denying the application on the grounds that the applicant failed to (1) establish that she was eligible for late TPS registration and (2) provide proof of her identity.

The applicant filed a timely appeal, but has submitted no further documentation.

Thus, there is still no evidence in the record that the applicant – who filed her TPS application more than two and one-half years after the end of the initial application period on September 9, 2002 – is eligible for late registration under any of the criteria enumerated at 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The director's denial of the application on this ground will therefore be affirmed.

The applicant also failed to submit any of the alternative types documentation listed in the service center's notice to the applicant on March 22, 2006, as well as in the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a)(1), to establish her identity. Accordingly, the director's denial of the application on this ground will also be affirmed.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
