Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center (CSC), and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application on July 10, 2006, because the applicant failed to establish she was eligible for late registration. She also failed to submit sufficient evidence to establish her continuous physical presence and continuous residence during the regulatory periods. The applicant filed her current appeal on August 1, 2006.

On appeal, counsel asserts that although the applicant did not marry her husband during the initial registration period for TPS, the AAO should consider the fact that they are presently married and have a child together. He further claims that the applicant submitted ample evidence of her presence in the United States during the required time period.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national of a state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for Temporary Protected Status during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
 - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;

- (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or
 - (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

Persons applying for TPS offered to Hondurans must demonstrate continuous residence in the United States since December 30, 1998, and continuous physical presence since January 5, 1999. The initial registration period for Honduras was from January 5, 1999 through August 20, 1999. The record reveals that the applicant filed her initial application with Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) on March 1, 2005.

To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period he fell within at least one of the provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) above.

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by CIS. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof, the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

On May 2, 2006, the director notified the applicant of his intent to deny her TPS application and requested evidence establishing her eligibility for late registration as set forth in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The applicant submitted her response to this request on May 22, 2006.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to establish she was eligible for late registration and denied the application on April 26, 2004. The director also found that she failed to submit sufficient evidence to establish her continuous physical presence and continuous residence during the regulatory periods.

On appeal, counsel asserts that although the applicant did not marry her husband during the initial registration period for TPS, the AAO should consider the fact that they are presently married and have a child together. He further claims that the applicant submitted ample evidence of her presence in the United States during the required time period.

The applicant however, failed to submit any evidence that she meets the requirements for late registration as enumerated in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2).

The applicant has submitted evidence with her initial I-821 application in an attempt to establish her qualifying continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States. However, this evidence does not mitigate the applicant's failure to file her Form I-821 within the initial registration period. The applicant has not submitted any evidence to establish that she has met any of the criteria for late registration described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for TPS will be affirmed.

An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
