

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services

PUBLIC COPY
identifying data deleted to prevent clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy

MI

FILE: [REDACTED] Office: VERMONT SERVICE CENTER
[EAC 07 005 80417]

Date: AUG 28 2007

IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center, denied the application and the application is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant claims to be a citizen of El Salvador who seeks Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because the applicant failed to establish he was eligible for late registration. The director also found that the applicant had failed to establish his qualifying continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that he has resided and been continuously physically present in the United States since February and March 2001, and that he did not initially apply for TPS because he was a student and his mother did not see the need for him to apply.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national of a state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for Temporary Protected Status during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
 - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
 - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or

- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The phrase continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

The phrase continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

Persons applying for TPS offered to Salvadorans must demonstrate continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, and continuous physical presence since March 9, 2001.

The burden of proof is on the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS). 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof, the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

The first issue in this proceeding is whether the applicant is eligible for late registration.

The initial registration period for Salvadorans was from March 9, 2001, through September 9, 2002. The record reveals that the applicant filed his initial TPS application with CIS on September 4, 2006. CIS accepted the application under the late filing provision in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that, during the initial registration period, he fell within at least one of the four provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) above.

On January 19, 2007, the director requested that the applicant submit evidence establishing his eligibility for late registration as set forth in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The director also requested that the applicant submit evidence establishing his residence in the United States from February 13, 2001, and his continuous physical presence since March 9, 2001, to the date of filing of his application. Finally, the director requested that the applicant submit a national identity document. The applicant did not respond to the director's request.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to establish he was eligible for late registration and denied the application on February 20, 2007. On appeal, the applicant reasserts his eligibility and submits two employment verification letters.

The applicant has submitted evidence in an attempt to establish his qualifying residence and physical presence in the United States. The letters submitted by the applicant do not overcome his failure to file his TPS application within the initial registration period. The applicant has not submitted any evidence to establish that he has met any of the criteria for late registration described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). Consequently, the director's conclusion that the applicant had failed to establish his eligibility for late registration will be affirmed.

The second issue in this proceeding is whether the applicant has established his continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, and his continuous physical presence in the United States since March 9, 2001.

As stated above, on January 19, 2007, the director requested that the applicant to submit evidence establishing his qualifying continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States. The applicant did not respond to the director's request.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to submit sufficient evidence to establish his qualifying continuous residence and continuous physical presence.

On appeal, the applicant reasserts his claim and submits the following documentation:

1. an employment verification letter signed by [REDACTED], administrative assistant at Penn Properties, Inc.; and
2. an employment verification letter signed by [REDACTED] Personnel Director at To-Var Associates, Inc.

These letters fail to establish the applicant's qualifying residence and continuous physical presence. Neither employment letter can be given little evidentiary weight and neither has any probative value as they do not provide basic information that is expressly required by 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a)(2)(i). The letters are not in affidavit form. The information in the letters is not attested to under penalty of perjury. The letters do not list the applicant's address during the period of his employment, only his current address. The letters are vague and only generally state that the applicant cleaned apartment buildings for the employers. The letters do not list, for example, the duties performed by the applicant, how many hours per week he worked, periods of layoff, or what his rate of pay was. In addition, the letters are not substantiated by employment records such as pay stubs or W-2 Forms.

The applicant has not submitted sufficient credible evidence to establish his qualifying continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, or his continuous physical presence in the United States since March 9, 2001. He has, therefore, failed to establish that he has met the criteria described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for TPS on these grounds will also be affirmed.

Beyond the decision of the director, the applicant did not provide sufficient evidence to establish his identity and nationality, as required in 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a)(1). Therefore, the application is denied for this additional reason.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.