Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed an initial TPS application on August 26, 2004, under Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) receipt number SRC 04 230 53475. The director denied that application on September 8, 2004, because the applicant failed to establish his eligibility for filing after the initial registration period, January 5, 1999 to August 20, 1999. The director also found that there was no evidence to show that he entered the United States on or before December 30, 1998 and that he had been physically present and resided in the U.S. during the requisite time periods. On September 24, 2004, the applicant filed an appeal from the denial decision. The AAO dismissed the appeal on November 29, 2005.

The applicant filed the current Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, on December 24, 2004, and indicated that he was re-registering for TPS.

The director denied the re-registration application on July 23, 2005 because the applicant's initial TPS application had been denied and the applicant was not eligible to apply for re-registration for TPS.

If the applicant is filing an application as a re-registration, a previous grant of TPS must have been afforded the applicant, as only those individuals who are granted TPS must register annually. In addition, the applicant must continue to maintain the conditions of eligibility. 8 C.F.R. § 244.17.

In this case, the applicant has not previously been granted TPS. Therefore, he is not eligible to re-register for TPS. Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application will be affirmed.

There is no indication that the applicant was attempting to file a late initial application for TPS instead of an annual re-registration. Moreover, there is no evidence in the file to suggest that the applicant is eligible for late registration for TPS under 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2).

An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
