Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The applicant's temporary protected status was withdrawn by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed an initial TPS application on June 13, 2002, under CIS receipt number WAC 02 208 51968. The Director, California Service Center, approved that application on June 30, 2003.

The director, however, withdrew TPS, on January 5, 2006, as the record of proceedings reveals that the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted temporary protected status under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that "the alien was not in fact eligible for such status" or if "the alien fails, without good cause, to re-register ... in a form and manner specified by" the Secretary. The Regulations under 8 C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1) and (3) further states that the director may withdraw the status of an alien granted TPS if, "the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status," or if, "the alien fails without good cause to re-register".

After a review of the record, the Chief, AAO, concurs with the director's withdrawal decision. The applicant has not overcome the findings of the director pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 244.14.

An alien shall not be eligible for temporary protected status under this section if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. See Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act, and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

8 C.F.R. § 244.1 defines "felony" and "misdemeanor:"

Felony means a crime committed in the United States, punishable by imprisonment for a term of more than one year, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, except: When the offense is defined by the State as a misdemeanor and the sentence actually imposed is one year or less regardless of the term such alien actually served. Under this exception for purposes of section 244 of the Act, the crime shall be treated as a misdemeanor.

Misdemeanor means a crime committed in the United States, either

- (1) Punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or
- (2) A crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section.

For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor.

Final court dispositions in the record of proceedings reveal the following:

- 1) On August 11, 2003, the Superior Court of California, County of Orange, California, convicted the applicant, on guilty pleas, of a violation of Section 23152(a) VC, a misdemeanor; a violation of Section 20002(a) VC, a misdemeanor; and, a violation of Section 12500(a), a misdemeanor. The applicant was sentenced to 3 years probation and 10 days jail, plus fines, costs, and the court imposed additional restrictions.

On appeal, the applicant states that he regrets the problem he has caused and asks for forgiveness. The applicant does not submit additional evidence on appeal.

The applicant is ineligible for TPS due to his record of at least two misdemeanor convictions, detailed above. Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a). Consequently, the director's decision to withdraw TPS must be affirmed for this reason.

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
