Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center (VSC), and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Nicaragua who is applying for Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The applicant filed an initial Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, under receipt number WAC 06 039 70450 after the initial registration period had closed. The Director, California Service Center, denied that application on September 123, 2006 after determining that the applicant had failed to establish she was eligible for late initial registration, that the applicant had not established that she had been continuously physically present in the United States since January 5, 1999 and that she had continuously resided in this country since December 30, 1998. The applicant filed the current application under receipt number EAC 06 329 88482, again after the initial registration period had closed. The VSC Director determined that the applicant had failed to establish she was eligible for late initial registration. The director also found that the applicant had not established that she had been continuously physically present in the United States since January 5, 1999 and that she had continuously resided in this country since December 30, 1998.

On appeal, the applicant requests that her case be re-opened to give her the opportunity to be legal in this country. She states that she has answered all the requests that she has received from Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) and that since she came to the United States in 1997, she has never been in any kind of trouble nor has she ever been stopped by any official of CIS. The applicant further states that she wants to live in this country, be employed and to help her family. The applicant provides additional documentation in support of her claim.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f) (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or

- (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
- (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
  - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
  - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or
  - (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

Persons applying for TPS offered to Hondurans must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States since December 30, 1998, and that they have been continuously physically present since January 5, 1999. The initial registration period for Hondurans was from January 5, 1999, through August 20, 1999. The record shows that the applicant filed her application with Citizenship and Immigration Services on August 25, 2006.

To qualify for late registration, an applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period, he or she fell within at least one of the provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) above.

On July 3, 2006, the applicant was requested to submit evidence establishing her eligibility for late registration as set forth in the regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The applicant was also requested to submit evidence establishing her continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States. The applicant, in response, provided documentation relating to her residence and physical presence in this country. However, she did not submit any evidence to establish that she was eligible for late initial registration.

On appeal, the applicant submitted evidence in an attempt to establish her continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States. However, this evidence does not mitigate the applicant's failure to file her Application for Temporary Protected Status within the initial registration period. The applicant has not submitted any evidence to establish that she has met any of the criteria for late registration described in the regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for TPS is affirmed.

The applicant has submitted some evidence for the years 1998 and 1999 in the form of photocopied receipts from firms such as the Virgin Megastore – Miami, Bealls N. Naples, Maltese Mobil 1 and the Presentente. These receipts do not bear her name and therefore are of little probative value. The applicant forwards a copy of a letter from [REDACTED] from Saint John Bosco Church in Miami, Florida, who states that the applicant has been coming to the church since 1998. However, the letter from [REDACTED] has little evidentiary weight or probative value as it does not provide basic information that is expressly required by 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a)(2)(v). Specifically, the letter does not show her inclusive dates of membership and state the address(s) where the applicant resided during the membership period. Consequently, it is determined that the applicant has not established her continuous residence and continuous physical presence during the required time period. 8 C.F.R. § 244.2 (b) and (c). Therefore, the director's decision is affirmed for these reasons.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements cited above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
