IN RE: Applicant:

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

for Robert P. Wiemann, Chief Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The initial application was denied by the Director, California Service Center. A subsequent application for re-registration was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is currently before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The initial application will be reopened, sua sponte, by the Chief, Administrative Appeals Office, and the application will be approved.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the initial TPS application on March 22, 2004, after determining that the applicant had abandoned her application by failing to appear for fingerprinting on November 16, 2003. The applicant did not file a motion to reopen within 30 days from the date of the denial.

The applicant filed the current Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, on May 10, 2005, and indicated that she was re-registering for TPS. The director denied the re-registration application on August 16, 2005, because the applicant's initial TPS application had been denied and the applicant was not eligible to apply for re-registration for TPS.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that she never received a notice requesting additional evidence. She states that she has had many problems with her mail by the mail carrier and thinks that she is a victim of this misunderstanding. The applicant submits additional evidence establishing her nationality and identity, and evidence of her continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States during the qualifying periods.

The record indicates that the applicant subsequently was fingerprinted and the Federal Bureau of Investigation fingerprint results reports dated June 16, 2005 and April 22, 2006, do not reflect a criminal record that would bar the applicant from receiving TPS. The applicant, therefore, has overcome the sole ground for the denial of her initial application for TPS.

The record of proceeding contains sufficient evidence to establish the applicant's eligibility for TPS and also does not reflect any grounds that would bar the applicant from receiving TPS. Additionally, the applicant has furnished sufficient evidence to establish continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, and continuous physical presence since March 9, 2001, as described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Therefore, the director's decision will be withdrawn and the initial application will be approved.

The director's denial of the application for re-registration or renewal is dependent upon the adjudication of the initial application. Since the initial application is being approved, the appeal from the denial of the re-registration will be sustained and that application will also be approved.

ORDER: The application is reopened and the director's denial of the initial application is withdrawn. The initial application and the re-registration applications are both approved.
