IN RE: Applicant: [Redacted]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

for Robert P. Wiemann, Chief Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center. The case was remanded by the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO), and denied again by Director, California Service Center. The application is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. §1254.

The director initially denied the application as abandoned because he determined that the applicant failed to respond to a request for additional evidence. The AAO remanded the case after determining that the specific reason for the denial was not indicated. The AAO instructed the director to explain in writing the specific reasons for denial.

The Notice of Intent to Deny was sent to the applicant on April 3, 2007. The applicant responded to the notice on May 11, 2007. The director subsequently denied both the initial TPS application and the re-registration application on June 19, 2007 because the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors.

On appeal, counsel for the applicant contends that the applicant's two convictions occurred from the same actions and therefore, the applicant only has one conviction.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation, if at the time of the initial registration period:....

Section 244(c) ALIENS ELIGIBLE FOR TEMPORARY PROTECTED STATUS.-

(2) ELIGIBILITY STANDARDS.-

(B) ALIENS INELIGIBLE. - An alien shall not be eligible for temporary protected status under this section if the Attorney General finds that-

(i) the alien has been convicted of any felony or 2 misdemeanors committed in the United States,....

"Misdemeanor" means a crime committed in the United States, either (1) punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or (2) a crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section. For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 244.1.

The record reveals that on June 6, 1999, the California Highway Patrol arrested the applicant for violations of 23152 (a) "Driving Under the Influence", and 23152(b) "Driving Under the Influence/0.08 Percent or more, by Weight, of Alcohol." The applicant was subsequently convicted of these charges on September 11, 1999.

On appeal, counsel contends that the applicant was only convicted of one misdemeanor since they arose out of a single scheme of criminal misconduct. However, while the determination of whether the applicant's crimes arose "out of a single scheme of criminal misconduct" may be relevant to an individual's removability under section 237 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), this determination has no bearing on the applicant's eligibility for TPS. Black's Law Dictionary, 353 (7th Ed., 1999) defines the term "count" to mean a separate and distinct claim in a complaint or similar pleading. It also indicates that the term "count" is used to signify the part of an indictment charging a distinct offense. According to the court disposition, the applicant was charged with two separate violations to which he pled guilty to two separate crimes and the court ordered two separate punishments. Therefore, the applicant has been convicted of two separate and distinct misdemeanor offenses.

The applicant is ineligible for temporary protected status because of his two misdemeanor convictions. 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. The applicant's statement, on appeal, does not overcome the adverse evidence in the record. Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for temporary protected status will be affirmed.

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
