Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the District Director, Miami, Florida, who certified his decision to the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) for review. The District Director's decision will be withdrawn, and the matter will be remanded to him for further action.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Cuba who filed this application for adjustment of status to that of a lawful permanent resident under section 1 of the Cuban Adjustment Act (CAA) of November 2, 1966. The CAA provides, in pertinent part:

[T]he status of any alien who is a native or citizen of Cuba and who has been inspected and admitted or paroled into the United States subsequent to January 1, 1959 and has been physically present in the United States for at least one year, may be adjusted by the Attorney General, (now the Secretary of Homeland Security, (Secretary)), in his discretion and under such regulations as he may prescribe, to that of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence if the alien makes an application for such adjustment, and the alien is eligible to receive an immigrant visa and is admissible to the United States for permanent residence.

The District Director determined that the applicant was not eligible for adjustment of status because she was not inspected and admitted or paroled into the United States. The District Director, therefore, denied the application accordingly. See District Director's Decision dated September 29, 2004.

The applicant has provided no statement or additional evidence on notice of certification.

A review of the record of proceedings reveals that on July 3, 1985, the applicant entered the United States without inspection at or near El Paso, Texas. The record reflects that on August 4, 1985, the applicant applied for asylum at the Miami, Florida district office. On the same day the Service issued a Form I-94 on behalf of the applicant and authorized employment. On April 19, 1990, the applicant appeared for an interview at the Miami district office regarding her asylum application.

When an alien enters the United States within the limits of a city designated as a port of entry, but at a point where immigration officers are not located, the applicable charge is entry without inspection. See Matter of O-, 1 I&N Dec. 617 (BIA 1943); See also Matter of Estrada-Betancourt, 12 I&N Dec. 191 (BIA 1967); Matter of Pierre, 14 I&N Dec. 467 (BIA 1973).

On April 19, 1999, the Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service, INS, issued a memorandum setting forth the Service's policy concerning the effect of an alien's having arrived in the United States at a place other than a designated port of entry on the alien's eligibility for adjustment of status under the Cuban Adjustment Act of 1966 (CAA), 8 U.S.C. § 1255. In her memorandum, the Commissioner states that this policy does not relieve the applicant of the obligation to meet all other eligibility requirements. In particular, CAA adjustment is available only to applicants who have been "inspected and admitted or paroled into the United States." An alien who is present without inspection, therefore, is not eligible for CAA adjustment unless the alien first surrenders himself or herself into Service custody and the Service releases the alien from custody pending a final determination of his or her admissibility.

The Commissioner concluded that if the Service releases from custody an alien who is an applicant for admission because the alien is present in the United States without having been admitted, the alien has been paroled. This conclusion applies even if the Service officer who authorized the release thought there was a legal distinction between paroling an applicant for admission and releasing an applicant for admission under section 236. When the Service releases from custody an alien who is an applicant for admission because he or she is present without inspection, the Form I-94 should bear that standard annotation that shows that the alien has been paroled under section 212(d)(5)(A).

In a footnote, the Commissioner added that it may be the case that the Service has released an alien who is an applicant for admission because he or she is present without inspection, without providing the alien with a parole Form I-94. In this case, the Service will issue a parole Form I-94 upon the alien's asking for one, and satisfying the Service that the alien is the alien who was released.

In the present case by applying for asylum and presenting herself to the INS the applicant surrendered herself into Service custody. The applicant was subsequently released from Service custody and was issued a Form I-94 with employment authorization. Therefore, pursuant to the Commissioner's policy, the applicant has been paroled into the United States.

The applicant is eligible for adjustment of status to permanent residence pursuant to section 1 of the CAA of November 2, 1966, if no other inadmissibility exists.

The record of proceeding reveals that on December 9, 1987, the applicant was arrested by the Metro-Dade police department and charged for conspiracy to traffic 700 kilograms of cocaine and money laundering. According to the record of proceedings the applicant was convicted and sentenced to three years imprisonment and two years probation.

Since the applicant was paroled into the United States, the District Director's decision will be withdrawn and the record will be remanded to him in order to review the file and determine if the applicant is inadmissible under section 212(a)(2)(A)(i)(II) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(2)(A)(i)(II) for having been convicted of any law or regulation relating to a controlled substance or section 212(a)(2)(C) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(2)(C) for being an illicit trafficker of a controlled substance. The District Director will enter a new decision which, if adverse to the applicant is to be certified to the AAO.

ORDER: The District Director's decision is withdrawn. The matter is remanded to him for further action consistent with the foregoing discussion.
