DISCUSSION: The preference visa petition was denied by the Director, Texas Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a restaurant. It seeks to employ the beneficiary permanently in the United States as an American-style cook. As required by statute, the petition is accompanied by a Form ETA 750, Application for Alien Employment Certification, approved by the United States Department of Labor (DOL). The director determined that the petitioner had not established that the beneficiary possessed the minimum experience required to perform the offered position by the priority date. The director denied the petition accordingly.

The record shows that the appeal is properly filed, timely, and makes a specific allegation of error in law or fact. The procedural history in this case is documented by the record and incorporated into the decision. Further elaboration of the procedural history will be made only as necessary.

The AAO conducts appellate review on a de novo basis. See Soltane v. DOJ, 381 F.3d 143, 145 (3d Cir. 2004). The AAO considers all pertinent evidence in the record, including new evidence properly submitted upon appeal.¹

On May 3, 2012, this office issued the beneficiary a Notice of Intent to Dismiss and Notice of Derogatory Information, notifying the beneficiary of derogatory information and the AAO's intention to enter a finding of willful misrepresentation. This office allowed the beneficiary 30 days in which to provide evidence to overcome the derogatory information. The beneficiary timely responded with evidence that the beneficiary did not willfully misrepresent facts to the DOL or USCIS. This office will not enter a finding of willful misrepresentation against the beneficiary in this case.

On May 3, 2012, this office also issued the petitioner a Notice of Intent to Dismiss and Notice of Derogatory Information and Request for Evidence (Notice of Intent), notifying the petitioner of derogatory information, the AAO's intention to dismiss the appeal, the AAO's intention to enter a finding of willful misrepresentation, and requesting additional evidence.² This office allowed the petitioner 30 days in which to provide evidence to overcome the derogatory information and to provide the requested evidence. More than 30 days have passed and the petitioner has failed to respond to this office's Notice of Intent.

¹The submission of additional evidence on appeal is allowed by the instructions to the Form I-290B, which are incorporated into the regulations by the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(a)(1). The record in the instant case provides no reason to preclude consideration of any of the documents newly submitted on appeal. See Matter of Soriano, 19 I&N Dec. 764 (BIA 1988).

²This office sent a copy of the Notice of Intent to the attorney of record, which was returned to this office as undeliverable. This office is sending a courtesy copy of this decision to the attorney of record at his most current address, although it is noted that his appearance was filed in his capacity as attorney for [REDACTED], which is now a defunct entity.

(b)(6)

The AAO specifically alerted the petitioner that failure to respond to the Notice of Intent would result in dismissal since the AAO could not substantively adjudicate the appeal without the information requested. The petitioner failed to provide the requested additional evidence. The failure to submit requested evidence that precludes a material line of inquiry shall be grounds for denying the petition. See 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(14).

Because the petitioner has failed to provide the requested additional evidence in response to the Notice of Intent, the AAO is dismissing the appeal.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
