DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Texas Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner seeks to classify the beneficiary pursuant to section 203(b)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(3) as a professional or skilled worker. The director determined that the petitioner failed to submit any of the initial required evidence to demonstrate a continuing ability to pay the proffered wage beginning on the priority date and failed to submit any evidence to establish that the beneficiary possessed the requisite qualifications set forth in the labor certification.

On appeal, the petitioner merely stated financial statements of the company as well as beneficiary's qualifications will follow.

The petitioner filed the appeal on April 17, 2009. As of this date, more than 30 months later, the AAO has received nothing further, and the regulation requires that any brief shall be submitted directly to the AAO. 8 C.F.R. §§ 103.3(a)(2)(vii) and (viii).

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v), an appeal shall be summarily dismissed if the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

The petitioner here has not specifically addressed the reasons stated for denial and has not provided any additional evidence. He has not even expressed disagreement with the director's decision. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
