IN RE: Petitioner:
Beneficiary:

PETITION: Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker Pursuant to Section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b)

ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER:

SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, California Service Center, denied the nonimmigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed. The petition will be denied.

The petitioner is a home health care agency. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as a physical therapist pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b). The director denied the petition determining that the petitioner had not provided a certified labor condition application (LCA). On appeal, the petitioner acknowledges that it failed to file the LCA prior to filing the visa petition.

The issue before the AAO is whether the petitioner established filing eligibility at the time the Form I-129 was received by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS).

General requirements for filing immigration applications and petitions are set forth at 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(a)(1) as follows:

[E]very application, petition, appeal, motion, request, or other document submitted on the form prescribed by this chapter shall be executed and filed in accordance with the instructions on the form, such instructions . . . being hereby incorporated into the particular section of the regulations requiring its submission

Further discussion of the filing requirements for applications and petitions is found at 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(1):

An applicant or petitioner must establish eligibility for a requested immigration benefit. An application or petition form must be completed as applicable and filed with any initial evidence required by regulation or by the instructions on the form

In cases where evidence related to filing eligibility is provided in response to a director's request for evidence, 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(12) states:

An application or petition shall be denied where evidence submitted in response to a request for initial evidence does not establish filing eligibility at the time the application or petition was filed

The regulation requires that before filing a Form I-129 petition on behalf of an H-1B worker, a petitioner must obtain a certified labor condition application (LCA) from the Department of Labor (DOL) in the occupational specialty in which the H-1B worker will be employed. See 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(h)(4)(i)(B). The instructions that accompany the Form I-129 also specify that an H-1B petitioner must document the filing of a labor certification application with the Department of Labor when submitting the Form I-129.

In the instant matter, the petitioner filed the Form I-129 with CIS on February 10, 2005. In response to the director's request for evidence of certification, the petitioner provided a copy of the LCA, DOL-certified on April 5, 2005, fifty-four days after the petitioner filed the Form I-129. The record establishes that, at the time of filing, the petitioner had not obtained a certified LCA in the occupational specialty and, therefore, as indicated by the director, has failed to comply with the filing requirements at 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(h)(4)(i)(B).

On appeal, the petitioner acknowledges that the LCA was not filed prior to filing the Form I-129.

As observed above, the Form I-129 filing requirements imposed by regulation require that the petitioner submit evidence of a certified LCA at the time of filing. A petitioner must establish eligibility at the time of filing the nonimmigrant visa petition. A visa petition may not be approved at a future date after the petitioner or beneficiary becomes eligible under a new set of facts. Matter of Michelin Tire Corp., 17 I&N Dec. 248 (Reg. Comm. 1978). The petitioner has failed to comply with the filing requirements at 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(h)(4)(i)(B).

Therefore, for the reasons already discussed, the beneficiary is ineligible for classification as an alien employed in a specialty occupation. In visa petition proceedings, the burden of proving eligibility for the benefit sought remains entirely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. Here, that burden has not been met. Accordingly, the AAO will not disturb the director's denial of the petition.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. The petition is denied.
