DISCUSSION: The Director, California Service Center, denied the non-immigrant visa petition. The matter is now on appeal before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO). The appeal will be dismissed.

On the Form I-129 visa petition, the petitioner stated that it is a nonprofit behavioral health services firm. To employ the beneficiary in what it designates as a clinical associate position, the petitioner endeavors to classify him as a nonimmigrant worker in a specialty occupation pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b).

Noting, however, that state corporate records indicated that the petitioner's corporate status was not in good standing, the AAO requested evidence demonstrating that the petitioner is active and in good standing in the State of Arizona in a request for evidence (RFE) dated May 22, 2012.¹

In the RFE, the AAO specifically alerted the petitioner that failure to respond to the RFE would result in dismissal since the AAO could not substantively adjudicate the appeal without the information requested. The petitioner failed to respond to the AAO's request.

A petition may be summarily denied as abandoned, denied based on the record, or denied for both reasons if a petitioner or applicant fails to respond to a request for evidence or a notice of intent to deny by the required date. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(13)(i). The failure to submit requested evidence that precludes a material line of inquiry shall be grounds for denying the petition. See 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(14).

Because the petitioner failed to respond to the RFE, the AAO is dismissing the appeal and summarily denying the petition as abandoned. The remaining issues in this proceeding are thereby rendered moot.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. The petition is denied.
