DISCUSSION: The service center director denied the instant nonimmigrant visa petition, and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed as the matter is now moot.

In the Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker (Form I-129), the petitioner describes itself as a "Critical Access Hospital" with 300 employees. To employ the beneficiary in what it designates as a "Critical Care Nursing Supervisor" position, the petitioner endeavors to classify her as a nonimmigrant worker in a specialty occupation pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b).

The director denied the petition because she determined that the evidence of record does not establish that the proffered position qualifies as a specialty occupation. On appeal, the petitioner submits a brief and evidence contending that the proffered position qualifies as a specialty occupation.

A review of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services records indicate that the beneficiary applied for adjustment of status on March 4, 2011, and that she became a conditional permanent resident on June 7, 2011.

Because the beneficiary has adjusted her status to conditional permanent resident, further pursuit of the matter at hand is moot.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. The petition is denied.
