DISCUSSION: The director of the California Service Center denied the nonimmigrant visa petition and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed. The petition will be summarily denied as abandoned.

In the Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker (Form I-129), the petitioner describes itself as a "computer, peripherals and electronics manufacturer and assembler, etc." with 200 employees. It seeks to employ the beneficiary in what it designates as a full-time "Component Engineer" position and to classify him as a nonimmigrant worker in a specialty occupation pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b).

Finding that the petitioner is engaged in locating and placing aliens with computer backgrounds into positions with firms that use computer programmers and/or analysts to complete their projects, the director denied the petition because (1) the working location(s) of the beneficiary could not be determined, (2) the petitioner failed to establish the duties of the proffered position for the beneficiary, and (3) the petitioner failed to establish that it has sufficient work for the requested period of intended employment.

Noting, however, that the record fails to establish that (1) the petitioner will have an employer-employee relationship with the beneficiary, and (2) the proffered position is a specialty occupation requiring at least a bachelor's degree or its equivalent in a specific specialty, the AAO requested additional evidence in a request for evidence (RFE) dated [REDACTED] 2012. The petitioner failed to respond to the AAO's request.

A petition may be summarily denied as abandoned, denied based on the record, or denied for both reasons if a petitioner or applicant fails to respond to a request for evidence or a notice of intent to deny by the required date. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(13)(i). In the RFE, the AAO specifically alerted the petitioner that failure to respond to the RFE would result in dismissal since the AAO could not substantively adjudicate the appeal without the information requested. The failure to submit requested evidence that precludes a material line of inquiry shall be grounds for denying the petition. See 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(14).

Because the petitioner failed to respond to the RFE, the AAO is dismissing the appeal and summarily denying the petition as abandoned. The remaining issues in this proceeding are thereby moot.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. The petition is summarily denied as abandoned.
