DISCUSSION: The Director of the Texas Service Center (the director) denied the Application for Replacement Citizenship/Naturalization Document (Form N-565) and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed and the application will remain denied.

Pertinent Facts and Procedural History

The applicant is a native of Iran and a naturalized citizen of the United States. She seeks to have her certificate of naturalization corrected under section 338 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1449, to reflect a change in her date of birth from October [REDACTED] to October [REDACTED], [REDACTED]

The director reviewed the applicant's record and determined that the applicant provided the October [REDACTED] date of birth during the naturalization process, and that she failed to establish that a clerical error was made in the preparation of the certificate. A correction to her certificate of naturalization was therefore not justified. The Form N-565 was denied accordingly.

The applicant indicates on appeal that her "green card was misprinted from [her] original birth certificate" when she immigrated to the United States, and that she would like to correct the mistake now because she is close to retirement age. She submits an Iranian passport and birth certificate reflecting that her birth date is October [REDACTED], and she requests that a new naturalization certificate be issued with the October [REDACTED] birth date.

We conduct appellate review on a de novo basis.

Applicable Law

Section 338 of the Act provides the statutory authority relating to the contents of a certificate of naturalization. In addition, the regulations regarding the execution and issuance of certificates of naturalization are contained in 8 C.F.R. § 338.5, and provide, in part:

- (a) Application. Whenever a Certificate of Naturalization has been delivered which does not conform to the facts shown on the application for naturalization, or a clerical error was made in preparing the certificate, an application for issuance of a corrected certificate may be filed, without fee, in accordance with the form instructions.

- (e) Data change. The correction will not be deemed to be justified where the naturalized person later alleges that the name or date of birth which the applicant stated to be his or her correct name or date of birth at the time of naturalization was not in fact his or her name or date of birth at the time of the naturalization.

Analysis

In the present matter the applicant naturalized on September 9, 1994. Her administrative record reflects that during her immigration and naturalization proceedings the applicant claimed that her date of birth was October [REDACTED]. Specifically, the record contains the following documents listing the applicant's date of birth as October [REDACTED]:

A Registration for Classification as Refugee (Form I-590) signed by the applicant on May 25, 1988, and the Supplemental Questionnaire for Refugee Status Applicants, signed by the applicant on February 24, 1988;

A Biographic Information Form (Form G-325A) signed by the applicant on February 24, 1988;

A Medical Examination of Applicants for U.S. Visas (DOS Optional Form 157) signed by the applicant on March 7, 1989;

The applicant's Memorandum of Creation of Record of Lawful Permanent Residence (Form I-181), dated July 27, 1990, and a Resident Alien card signed by the applicant;

An Application by a Lawful Permanent Resident for an Alien Registration Receipt Card (Form I-90), signed by the applicant on May 23, 1994;

The Application for Naturalization (Form N-400) signed by the applicant on May 24, 1994.

The record now also includes an Iranian passport and birth certificate for the applicant listing her date of birth as October [REDACTED]. The passport and birth certificate are submitted for the first time with the applicant's Form N-565 in November 2013, nineteen years after the applicant's naturalization as a U.S. citizen.

A de novo review of the record demonstrates that the October [REDACTED] date of birth contained on the applicant's naturalization certificate conforms to the information provided by the applicant in her Form N-400, and is not a result of a clerical error made by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). The applicant's Form N-400 contains several redline changes and checkmarks indicating that during the naturalization interview the applicant attested to, and corrected where necessary, the information initially provided. Specifically, Part 3 of the Form N-400 contains a checkmark indicating that the applicant confirmed that her date of birth was October [REDACTED]. The Form N-400 also contains an affidavit, signed by the applicant on July 18, 1994 upon completion of her naturalization interview, swearing that the contents of the application were true and correct. The record reflects further that the applicant claimed the October [REDACTED] date of birth throughout her naturalization process and during her process to immigrate to the United States.

Neither the statute nor the regulation allows USCIS to correct a date of birth where there has not been a clerical error attributable to USCIS. See 8 C.F.R. § 338.5(a). Here, the record fails to establish that there was a USCIS error in preparing the applicant's certificate of naturalization. The appeal shall therefore be dismissed.

Conclusion

In application proceedings, it is the applicant's burden to establish eligibility for the immigration benefit sought. See Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. Here, that burden has not been met.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed and the application remains denied.
