INSTRUCTIONS:

If your appeal was dismissed, you no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status was initially denied by the Director, Western Service Center, on August 9, 1991. The applicant appealed to the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO), and the AAO remanded the case. The application was denied by the Director, Los Angeles District Office on March 14, 2007, and is again before the AAO on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director denied the application because she found that the applicant had been convicted of a crime constituting both a felony and a crime of moral turpitude. As a result of this criminal conviction, the director found the applicant to be in a class of aliens ineligible for temporary residence and to be inadmissible as an immigrant to the United States. Therefore, the director concluded that the applicant was not eligible for adjustment to temporary resident status as an applicant who is excludable and inadmissible to the United States and was convicted of a felony offense.

On appeal, the applicant stated that he would like to be able to stay in the United States to provide his children with a better life and a good future. The applicant provided no additional evidence or explanation to overcome the reasons for denial of his application.

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed.

A review of the decision reveals the director accurately set forth a legitimate basis for denial of the application. On appeal, the applicant has not presented additional evidence. Nor has he addressed the grounds stated for denial. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
