DISCUSSION: The application to adjust to permanent resident status pursuant to Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a was denied by the Director, Los Angeles, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The applicant was granted temporary resident status on August 2, 2005 under section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act), as amended, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a. The applicant was required to file an application to adjust status from temporary to permanent resident within forty-three (43) months of receiving her temporary resident status, which would have been March 2, 2009. See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.3(b)(1). Pursuant to section 245A(b)(2)(C) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a(b)(2)(C), a failure to file an application for adjustment to permanent residence within this statutory filing period will result in the termination of the applicant's temporary residence. The applicant filed her application to adjust status from temporary to permanent resident on July 7, 2009, which is outside the statutory filing period.

On appeal, through counsel, applicant asserts that the reason for her failure to file in a timely manner was due to representational error. She asserts that she obtained three different agencies to handle her case and they made "fatal flaws" to her case. The record contains a statement from counsel, on behalf of the applicant, which indicates that the applicant was not aware that she had to file the Form I-698 before the end of March 2009. There is no remedy available for an applicant who assumes the risk of authorizing an unlicensed attorney or unaccredited representative to undertake representations on its behalf. See 8 C.F.R. § 292.1. The AAO only considers complaints based upon ineffective assistance against accredited representatives. Cf. Matter of Lozada, 19 I&N Dec. 637 (BIA 1988), aff'd, 857 F.2d 10 (1st Cir. 1988) (requiring an appellant to meet certain criteria when filing an appeal based on ineffective assistance of counsel).

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed solely on the basis of a denial for failure to file the application for adjustment of status under section 210 or 245A in a timely manner, will be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
