IN RE:

Applicant:

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application after determining that the applicant had abandoned his application by failing to respond to a request for evidence.

On appeal, the applicant states that she did submit the evidence requested by the director, and that she is resubmitting the evidence.

If all requested initial evidence and requested additional evidence is not submitted by the required date, the application or petition shall be considered abandoned and, accordingly, shall be denied. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(13). A denial due to abandonment may not be appealed, but an applicant or petitioner may file a motion to reopen. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(15).

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) fingerprint results report shows that the applicant was arrested on October 26, 1993, for shoplifting. In a notice of intent to deny the application dated March 20, 2004, the applicant was requested to submit the final court disposition of any and all arrests. The record does not contain a response from the applicant; therefore, the director concluded that the applicant had abandoned her application and denied the application on April 22, 2004.

The record of proceeding, however, shows that the applicant did respond to the director's request for evidence. The response was received by the California Service Center on April 7, 2004, prior to the director's decision. Therefore, the director's finding that the applicant abandoned her application will be withdrawn, and a decision will be made based on the evidence of record.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national of a state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
  - (1) Registers for Temporary Protected Status during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
  - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:

- (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
- (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
- (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or
- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.

An alien shall not be eligible for temporary protected status under this section if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. See Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

8 C.F.R. § 244.1 defines "felony" and "misdemeanor:"

Felony means a crime committed in the United States, punishable by imprisonment for a term of more than one year, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, except: When the offense is defined by the State as a misdemeanor and the sentence actually imposed is one year or less regardless of the term such alien actually served. Under this exception for purposes of section 244 of the Act, the crime shall be treated as a misdemeanor.

Misdemeanor means a crime committed in the United States, either

- (1) Punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or
- (2) A crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section.

For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor.

An alien is inadmissible if he has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude (other than a purely political offense), or if he admits having committed such crime, or if he admits committing an act which constitutes the essential elements of such crime. Section 212(a)(2)(A)(i)(I) of the Act.

The FBI report shows that the applicant (name used: [REDACTED]) was arrested on October 26, 1993, for shoplifting. She was requested on March 20, 2004, to submit the final court disposition of any and all arrests, including the court disposition of this arrest. In response, the applicant submitted a Court Record Certification from the Superior Court, Metropolitan Branch, Los Angeles, California, indicating that there is no record in that office making reference to [REDACTED].

It is noted, however, that at the time of the applicant's arrest, she used the name [REDACTED]. The applicant failed to submit the court record under this name, or under any and all names used by the applicant. Furthermore, there is no evidence that the applicant's case was heard at that court.

The applicant has failed to provide the final court disposition of her arrest detailed above. The applicant is ineligible for temporary protected status because of her failure to provide information necessary for the adjudication of her application. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a).

Beyond the decision of the director, it is noted that the applicant filed her TPS application on September 16, 2003, after the initial registration period for El Salvadorans (from March 9, 2001 to September 9, 2002) had closed. The applicant had not established that she fell within the provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) (listed above).

The record contains an Order to Show Cause and Notice of Hearing, Form I-221, issued on February 7, 1992, in Los Angeles, California, based on the applicant's entry into the United States without inspection on January 10, 1989.

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
