IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because the applicant had failed to respond to a request to submit evidence to establish: (1) that he was eligible for late registration; (2) his nationality and identity; and (3) that he had continuously resided in the United States since December 30, 1998, and had been continuously physically present from January 5, 1999, to the date of filing the application.

On appeal, the applicant submits a statement and resubmits evidence previously furnished and contained in the record of proceeding.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an alien who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under § 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
 - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
 - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or

- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of condition described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The term continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual, and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

The term continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

Persons applying for TPS offered to Hondurans and Nicaraguans must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States since December 30, 1998, and that they have been continuously physically present since January 5, 1999. On May 11, 2000, the Attorney General announced an extension of the TPS designation until July 5, 2001. Subsequent extensions of the TPS designation have been granted with the latest extension valid until July 5, 2007, upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite time period.

The initial registration period for Hondurans was from January 5, 1999 through August 20, 1999. The record shows that the applicant filed his TPS application on December 6, 2004.

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS). 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

In a Notice of Intent to Deny (NOID) dated February 5, 2006, the applicant was requested to submit evidence establishing his eligibility for late registration as set forth in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The applicant was also requested to submit evidence to establish nationality and identity, and evidence to establish continuous residence in the United States since December 30, 1998, and continuous physical presence from January 5, 1999, to the date of filing the application. The director determined that the applicant had failed to respond to the NOID and denied the application on May 3, 2006. It is noted, however, that prior to the director's denial decision, the applicant responded to the NOID, and was received at the California Service Center on March 8, 2006. The applicant submitted a copy of a Honduran passport issued to the applicant in New York on August 20, 2002, and additional evidence in an attempt to establish residence and physical presence in the United States.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that he has been residing in the United States since December 30, 1999, that they have moved many times within a year, and as a result he lost documents that would probably have been useful. He resubmitted school records and immunization records dated from October 2001 to June 2004, and statements from three individuals attesting to the applicant's residence in the United States since 1998.

The record indicates that the applicant submitted with his initial TPS application a copy of an Employment Authorization Card issued to the applicant's mother [REDACTED] on July 6, 2003, under category A12. While regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2)(iv) allow children of aliens who are TPS-eligible to file applications after the initial registration period had closed, these regulations do not relax the requirements for eligibility for TPS. According to 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, an alien may in the discretion of the director be granted TPS if the alien establishes that he or she meets all the requirements listed in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and subparagraph (f)(1), or (f)(2).

File A94 340 895, belonging to [REDACTED], was subsequently reviewed. It is noted that [REDACTED] indicated on her initial TPS application filed on March 26, 1999, and subsequent TPS applications and employment authorization applications (Form I-765) filed on September 5, 2000 and on June 28, 2001, that [REDACTED] (the applicant) was residing in El Progreso, Yoro, Honduras.

Based on the information contained in [REDACTED] file, it is determined that the applicant was not present in the United States during the period required to establish eligibility. Therefore, he could not have met the criteria for continuous residence in the United States since December 30, 1998, and continuous physical presence since January 5, 1999. 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b). The reliability of the evidence furnished in an attempt to establish residence and physical presence offered by the applicant, specifically, the affidavits from the three individuals [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] is suspect.

Doubt cast on any aspect of the applicant's proof may lead to a reevaluation of the reliability and sufficiency of the remaining evidence offered in support of the application. It is incumbent upon the applicant to resolve any inconsistencies in the record by independent objective evidence, and attempts to explain or reconcile such inconsistencies, absent competent objective evidence pointing to where the truth, in fact, lies, will not suffice. Matter of Ho, 19 I&N Dec. 582 (BIA 1988).

The applicant has failed to establish that he has met the criteria for continuous residence since December 30, 1998, and continuous physical presence since January 5, 1999, as described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the TPS application will be affirmed.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
