John F. Grissom, Acting Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The applicant is stated to be a citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed her initial TPS application on May 30, 2002, under receipt number EAC 02 207 52771. The Director, Vermont Service Center, denied that application on December 13, 2002, because the applicant failed to establish her eligibility to file for late initial registration. On January 14, 2003, the applicant filed an appeal from the denial decision. The Director (now Chief), AAO, dismissed that appeal on March 26, 2004.

The applicant filed the current Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status, on December 14, 2004 and indicated that she was re-registering for TPS.

The director denied the re-registration application because the applicant's initial TPS application had been denied and the applicant was not eligible to apply for re-registration for TPS.

On appeal, the applicant states that she is filing an appeal because it is important that she have her employment authorization. The applicant also states that she would submit a brief and/or evidence within 30 days. To date, there has been no further correspondence from the applicant. Therefore, the record must be considered complete. The applicant fails to make any other statement or claim or provide any additional evidence.

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v).

Inasmuch as the applicant has failed to identify specifically an erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact in this proceeding, the appeal must be summarily dismissed.

As always in these proceedings, the burden of proof rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
