IN RE: Applicant:

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254a

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

Enclosed please find the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) in your case.

This is a non-precedent decision. The AAO does not announce new constructions of law nor establish agency policy through non-precedent decisions. If you believe the AAO incorrectly applied current law or policy to your case or if you seek to present new facts for consideration, you may file a motion to reconsider or a motion to reopen, respectively. Any motion must be filed on a Notice of Appeal or Motion (Form I-290B) within 33 days of the date of this decision. Please review the Form I-290B instructions at <http://www.uscis.gov/forms> for the latest information on fee, filing location, and other requirements. See also 8 C.F.R. § 103.5. Do not file a motion directly with the AAO.

Thank you,

Ron Rosenberg
Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant claims to be a citizen of Haiti who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because the applicant failed to establish she was eligible for late registration.

On appeal, the applicant states that she was unaware of the re-designation of Haiti and its registration period. The applicant requests that her application be reconsidered as during the extension period she was in a valid nonimmigrant status. The applicant asserts that she mistakenly listed an incorrect entry date on her TPS application. The applicant submits copies of the biographical pages of her U.S. visa and current Form I-94, Arrival/Departure Record.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national of a state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Secretary may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
 - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;

- (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or
 - (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

On January 21, 2010, the Secretary designated Haiti as a country eligible for TPS. This designation allowed nationals of Haiti who have continuously resided in the United States since January 12, 2010, and who have been continuously physically present in the United States since January 21, 2010, to apply for TPS. On May 19, 2011, the Secretary re-designated Haiti for TPS eligibility which became effective on July 23, 2011. This re-designation allowed nationals of Haiti who have continuously resided in the United States since January 12, 2011, and who have been continuously physically present in the United States since July 23, 2011, to apply for TPS. The initial registration period for the re-designation began on May 19, 2011, and ended on November 15, 2011. On October 1, 2012, the Secretary announced an extension of the TPS designation for Haiti until July 22, 2014, upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite time period.

To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period she fell within at least one of the provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) above. If the qualifying condition or application has expired or been terminated, the individual must file within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of the qualifying condition in order to be considered for the late initial registration. 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(g).

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof, the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

The AAO conducts appellate review on a de novo basis. See Soltane v. DOJ, 381 F.3d 143, 145 (3d Cir. 2004).

The record reflects that the applicant filed her initial TPS application on March 15, 2013. The applicant indicated on her TPS application to have entered the United States on November 10, 2012. Along with her TPS application, the applicant submitted a copy of the biographical page of her Haitian passport, an identification card and a birth certificate without the required English translation.¹

USCIS records reflect that the applicant, as a nonimmigrant visitor, has entered and departed the United States on numerous occasions since 2009. Specifically, since 2010 USCIS records reflect the following entries and departures:

Departure date	Entry date
April 26, 2010	January 29, 2011
June 13, 2011	December 14, 2011
May 31, 2012	November 10, 2012

On April 18, 2013, the applicant was requested to submit evidence establishing her eligibility for late registration as set forth in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The applicant, in response, provided an additional copy of her Haitian passport and evidence in an attempt to establish residence and physical presence in the United States.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to establish she was eligible for late registration and denied the application on July 22, 2013.

The applicant's statements on appeal are noted. However, the re-designation of Haiti was announced by public notice in the Federal Register, and was made available to the public on the USCIS' website. There is no provision to waive the registration requirement based on the applicant's assertion that she lacks knowledge of the immigration laws.

Although the applicant, at the time the TPS application was filed, was in a valid nonimmigrant status her visitor visa had been granted over eleven months after the initial registration period had expired. Therefore, her nonimmigrant status cannot form the basis of eligibility for TPS after the initial registration period has closed.

The provisions for late registration detailed in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) were created in order to ensure that TPS benefits were made available to aliens who did not register during the initial registration period for the various circumstances specifically identified in the regulations. The applicant has not submitted evidence that she has met one of those provisions outlined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for TPS on this ground will be affirmed.

¹ Any document containing foreign language submitted to USCIS shall be accompanied by a full English language translation which the translator has certified as complete and accurate, and by the translator's certification that he or she is competent to translate from the foreign language into English. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(3).

An application that fails to comply with the technical requirements of the law may be denied by the AAO even if the Service Center does not identify all of the grounds for denial in the initial decision. See Spencer Enterprises, Inc. v. United States, 229 F. Supp. 2d 1025, 1043 (E.D. Cal. 2001), aff'd, 345 F.3d 683 (9th Cir. 2003); see also Soltane v. DOJ, 381 F.3d at 145.

Beyond the decision of the director, it is noted that on April 18, 2013, the applicant was also requested to submit evidence of continuous residence since January 12, 2011 and of continuous physical presence since July 23, 2011 in the United States. However, as the applicant was not in the United States on January 12, 2011 and on July 23, 2011, she cannot establish continuous residence and continuous physical presence as described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2 (b) and (c). The applicant's visits to the United States in 2010 and 2011 only serve to establish her presence in the United States during the duration of her visits; they do not establish continuous residence or continuous physical presence in the United States. Consequently, the TPS application must be denied on these grounds as well.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
