Employment Authorization Document and the Asylum Clock

Monday September 19, 2011 @ 2:00 pm (EDT)

Room 8008, 111 Massachusetts Ave NW

Washington, DC

USCIS and EOIR invite interested parties to participate in a stakeholder meeting on Monday, September 19th at 2:00pm (EDT) regarding the Employment Authorization Document (EAD) asylum clock. Please note that this engagement was originally scheduled for August 23, 2011, but was postponed due to an earthquake that occurred in the Mid-Atlantic Region.

USCIS and EOIR continue their efforts to clarify asylum clock policies and procedures. The agencies want to engage with stakeholders in a listening session to obtain valuable input to inform their policy making efforts. USCIS and EOIR want to provide an opportunity for stakeholders to note their particular areas of concern and to present their specific ideas and suggestions on how to improve the existing EAD and asylum clock policies.

To Participate in the Session

To participate in this engagement, please contact the Office of Public Engagement at public.engagement@dhs.gov by September 18, 2011, and reference the following in the subject line of your email:

- If you plan to attend in person, please reference “asylum clock2 – In Person”
- If you plan to attend by phone, please reference “asylum clock2 – Phone”

Please also include your full name and the organization you represent, if any, in the body of the email. Note that an RSVP to the August 23rd engagement will not carry over to this event. Please RSVP again.
