

USCIS Policy Manual Webinars

On January 7, 2013, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) launched the first phase of its new policy manual. This initial release begins the process of providing a single online reference for USCIS policies. The first phase of the policy manual covers citizenship and naturalization. Future releases will add benefit types and will gradually expand to cover all USCIS policies.

USCIS will host a series of webinars in January 2013 to give interested individuals an opportunity to learn about the policy manual and ask questions about its use and features.
