

THIS AGENCY USES

SAVETM

Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements

This agency participates in the U. S. Citizenship and Immigration Services' SAVE Program to check immigration status information.

If you are a noncitizen or naturalized citizen, this agency may check your immigration status using SAVE before granting you a public benefit, such as a Social Security card, housing assistance, Medicaid, food stamps, or state-issued driver's license.

SAVE informs authorized public benefit-granting agencies, like this one, of your immigration status. SAVE verifies non-immigrant status, immigrant status, and U.S. citizenship of naturalized and derived citizens.

The agencies use your immigration status and other information to determine if you are eligible for the public benefits they issue. It is the responsibility of the agency to follow the SAVE verification process and any other requirements to determine your eligibility for the benefit.

SAVE does not decide whether an applicant is eligible for a specific benefit or license.
