Revised Form N-648 (Continued)

U.S. Citizenship

USCIS also consolidated Question 13 (“clearly describe how disabilities and/or impairments affect the applicant’s ability to demonstrate English and civics requirements”) into Question 1.

Provide the clinical diagnosis and medical code for all physical or developmental disabilities and/or mental impairments that affect the applicant's ability to meet the English and/or civics requirements. New Policy Updates

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

Deleted content related to questions that have been removed from the Form N-648.

Provides that USCIS may accept a Form N-648 submitted after the naturalization application is filed.

Clarifies the minimum information needed on the Form N-648 for sufficiency.

Illiteracy and advanced age, alone, are not sufficient for the medical exception.

USCIS still recommends submission of the N-648 with the N-400, so that the officers have time to review before an interview

The applicant bears the burden of proof to demonstrate that they have a disability or impairment such that, even with reasonable accommodations, they are unable to meet the English and civics requirements for naturalization.

New Policy Updates (Continued)

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

- The policy eliminates several sections from the previous policy that were tied to the questions removed from the form, including:

Explanation of doctor-patient relationship

Effects on applicant's
daily life

Cause and severity of the medical condition

Telehealth Examinations

- USCIS may accept a Form N-648 certified by an authorized medical professional who completed it through a telehealth examination.
- Medical professionals conducting telehealth examinations must adhere to the respective state telehealth laws and requirements, otherwise USCIS may request a new Form N-648.

Oath Waivers

Some applicants may not understand or communicate an understanding of the Oath of Allegiance and may need a legal guardian, surrogate, or designated representative to assist.

Previously USCIS required a separate written evaluation from the medical professional for the legal guardian, surrogate, or designated representative to assist.

New policy allows an applicant to seek an oath waiver in the Form N-648.

Versions Accepted

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

- Form and Policy effective on 10/19/22.
 - USCIS will adjudicate any pending or new N-648 based on the new policy.
- Applicants may use the old version of Form N-648 until 11/21/22.
- If an applicant was issued an RFE for an older version of the N-648, USCIS will continue to accept the older version of the N-648 that is signed and dated by the same medical professional.

USCIS Officers' Review of the Form

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

- An officer reviews the Form N-648 in its totality and may determine that the Form N-648 is sufficient even if some of the questions have incomplete responses, if the required information is present somewhere on the form.
- The officer determines that a request for a medical disability exception is sufficient if the Form N-648 contains enough information to establish that the applicant is eligible for the medical disability exception by a preponderance of evidence.

Officer Review of the Form (Continued)

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

- In general, USCIS should accept the medical professional's diagnosis and not second guess the diagnosis.
 - However, an officer may find a Form N-648 insufficient if there are credible reasons to doubt the validity of the form, or the officer finds discrepancies, misrepresentation, or fraud.

Examples of Credible Reasons to Doubt the Validity of Form N-648

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

- The applicant was not examined by the certifying medical professional;
- Someone other than an authorized medical professional certified the form;
- The applicant paid for the Form N-648 without having an examination and diagnosis by an authorized medical professional;
- The medical professional who completed the Form N-648 is under investigation for immigration or Medicaid fraud by USCIS FDNS, ICE, or another federal, state, or local agency;

Examples of Credible Reasons to Doubt the Validity of Form N-648 (Continued)

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

- The interpreter is known or suspected to be involved in any immigration fraud, including and especially Form N-648 related fraud;
- The evidence in the record or other credible information indicates fraud or misrepresentation;
- The applicant provides multiple Forms N-648 with different diagnoses and information; or
- Any other articulable grounds that are supported by the record.

Specific Example 1

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

Applicant submitted Form N-648 with Form N-400 at time of filing on December 1, 2021.

Applicant appears for N-400 interview on November 30, 2022. Officer reviews Form N-648 and finds it insufficient.

In the same interview, the Applicant presents new revised edition of Form N-648.

In this scenario, USCIS will accept the new N-648 and review it for sufficiency. The new revision of Form N-648 can be submitted for pending N-400s filed prior to the release of the new N-648 version.

Specific Example 2

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

Applicant filed Form N-400 on May 12, 2021. No Form N-648 was included with that filing.

Applicant appears for N-400 interview on November 30, 2022.

Applicant presents newly revised Form N-648 at the interview on November 30, 2022.

In this scenario, with the policy update, we will now accept an N-648 that would have previously been considered untimely. The officer will review the N-648 for sufficiency.

Specific Example 3

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

The N-648 states: The patient suffers from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) – DSM V – 309.81. PTSD can interfere with one’s ability to perform daily tasks and can result in memory and concentration issues. Because of this, the patient has great difficulty learning and retaining new information. Therefore, the patient cannot learn a new language such as English and cannot learn information about U.S. history and civics.

In this scenario, the medical professional explained the condition, indicated the DSM code and tied this condition to the applicant’s inability to retain information to enable them to complete the English/civics examination and therefore Form N-648 is sufficient.

Specific Example 4

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration
Services

The N-648 states: The patient has PTSD. Patient claims he cannot learn English or civics, and so he will not be able to pass the tests. Please waive the tests.

In this scenario, the medical professional did not describe the condition, did not provide an ICD or DSM code, and relies on the applicant's own self-assessment for the connection. This N-648 is insufficient.
