Section 212(d)(3)(B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act provides:

(B)(i) The Secretary of State, after consultation with the Attorney General and the Secretary of Homeland Security, or the Secretary of Homeland Security, after consultation with the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, may determine in such Secretary's sole unreviewable discretion that subsection (a)(3)(B) shall not apply with respect to an alien within the scope of that subsection or that subsection (a)(3)(B)(vi)(III) shall not apply to a group within the scope of that subsection, except that no such waiver may be extended to an alien who is within the scope of subsection (a)(3)(B)(i)(II), no such waiver may be extended to an alien who is a member or representative of, has voluntarily and knowingly engaged in or endorsed or espoused or persuaded others to endorse or espouse or support terrorist activity on behalf of, or has voluntarily and knowingly received military-type training from a terrorist organization that is described in subclause (I) or (II) of subsection (a)(3)(B)(vi), and no such waiver may be extended to a group that has engaged in terrorist activity against the United States or another democratic country or that has purposefully engaged in a pattern or practice of terrorist activity that is directed at civilians. Such a determination shall neither prejudice the ability of the United States Government to commence criminal or civil proceedings involving a beneficiary of such a determination or any other person, nor create any substantive or procedural right or benefit for a beneficiary of such a determination or any other person. Notwithstanding any other provision of law (statutory or nonstatutory), including section 2241 of Title 28, or any other habeas corpus provision, and sections 1361 and 1651 of such title, no court shall have jurisdiction to review such a determination or revocation except in a proceeding for review of a final order of removal pursuant to section 1252 of this title, and review shall be limited to the extent provided in section 1252(a)(2)(D). The Secretary of State may not exercise the discretion provided in this clause with respect to an alien at any time during which the alien is the subject of pending removal proceedings under section 1229a of this title.

(ii) Not later than 90 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Homeland Security shall each provide to the Committees on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives and of the Senate, the Committee on International Relations of the House of Representatives, the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate, and the Committee on Homeland Security of the House of Representatives a report on the aliens to whom such Secretary has applied clause (i). Within one week of applying clause (i) to a group, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a report to such Committees.

II. Data Report

During FY 2022, USCIS applied 603 exemptions to individual applicants under the Secretary of Homeland Security's (Secretary) exercises of discretionary authority. All applicants considered for exemptions were subject to a thorough and rigorous security vetting process. USCIS procedures require that the biographic and biometric data of all applicants be screened against a broad array of law enforcement and intelligence community databases that contain information about individuals known to be security threats, including the terrorist watchlist. In addition to rigorous background vetting, the Secretary's discretionary authority is applied only on a case-by-case basis after careful review of all factors and after all security checks have cleared.

Of the 603 exemptions applied under the Secretary's exercise of discretionary authority:

- 34 were processed for applicants for lawful permanent resident status (Form I-485),
- 15 were processed for asylum applicants (Form I-589),
- 10 were processed for Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA) applicants (Form I-881),
- 536 were processed for refugee applicants (Form I-590),

- One was processed for an applicant for Temporary Protected Status (Form I-821), and
- Six were processed for applicants for relief from removal before the U.S. Department of Justice Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR).

Regarding the reasons for the 603 exemptions:

- 176 were processed for an individual's provision of material support, while under duress, to a designated terrorist organization as defined under INA section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi)(I) and (II), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(3)(B)(vi)(I) and (II) (Tier I or II terrorist organizations), under the Secretary's April 27, 2007 exercise of authority relating to designated terrorist organizations;

- 45 were processed for individuals who provided certain limited material support (including certain routine commercial transactions, certain routine social transactions, certain humanitarian assistance, or material support provided under substantial pressure that does not rise to the level of duress) to a Tier III terrorist organization, or to a member of such an organization, under the Secretary's February 5, 2014 exercise of authority;

- 25 were processed for individuals who provided insignificant material support to a Tier III terrorist organization, or to a member of such an organization, under the Secretary's February 5, 2014 exercise of authority;
- Two were provided for Afghan allies who supported U.S. interests and/or participated in the resistance movement against the Taliban, or against the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan, under the Secretary's June 8, 2022 exercise of authority;
- 11 were provided for certain individuals who were employed as civil servants in Afghanistan at any time from September 27, 1996 to December 22, 2001, or from August 15, 2021, or thereafter, under the Secretary's June 8, 2022 exercise of authority;
- One was processed for an individual who provided certain limited material support (including certain routine commercial transactions, certain routine social transactions, certain humanitarian assistance, or material support provided under substantial pressure that does not rise to the level of duress), or insignificant material support to a Tier I or II terrorist organization, or to a member of such an organization, under the Secretary's June 8, 2022 exercise of authority;
- 10 were processed for certain qualified individuals with existing immigration benefits under the Limited General Exemption<sup>1</sup> who provided material support to, solicited funds for, solicited individuals for membership in, or received military-type training from certain qualified Tier III terrorist organizations<sup>2</sup>, under the Secretary's August 10, 2012 exercise of authority relating to certain Tier III terrorist organizations; and
