John F. Grissom, Acting Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Texas Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner seeks to classify the beneficiary pursuant to section 203(b)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(3) as a skilled worker. The director determined that the petitioner failed to demonstrate a continuing ability to pay the proffered wage beginning on the priority date and that the beneficiary has the requisite experience to work in the proffered position.

The regulation at 8 CFR §§ 103.3(a)(2)(vii) and (viii) states that an affected party may make a written request to the AAO for additional time to submit a brief and that, if the AAO grants the affected additional time, it may submit the brief directly to the AAO.

On appeal, counsel merely stated that the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) incorrectly determined that the beneficiary did not have the proper experience and that DHS incorrectly determined that the petitioner was unable to pay the proffered wage. Counsel indicated that he would be sending a brief and/or evidence to the AAO within 30 days.

Counsel dated the appeal March 20, 2007.<sup>1</sup> As of this date, approximately two years later, the AAO has received nothing further.

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v), an appeal shall be summarily dismissed if the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Counsel here has not specifically addressed the reasons stated for denial and has not provided any additional evidence. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.

<sup>1</sup> The AAO notes that U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) received the appeal on March 30, 2007.
