PETITION:       Immigrant Petition for Alien Worker as a Skilled Worker or Professional Pursuant to Section
                  203(b)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(3)

ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER:

INSTRUCTIONS:

Enclosed please find the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All of the documents related to this matter have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Please be advised that any further inquiry that you might have concerning your case must be made to that office.

Thank you,

Ron Rosenberg
Acting Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The preference visa petition was approved on November 20, 2001 by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Vermont Service Center, but that approval was revoked by the Director, Texas Service Center (director) on June 28, 2009 and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be sustained, the director's decision will be withdrawn, and the petition's approval will be reinstated.

The petitioner is a restaurant. It seeks to employ the beneficiary permanently in the United States as a cook pursuant to section 203(b)(3)(A)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(3)(A)(i).<sup>1</sup> As required by statute, the petition is submitted along with an approved Form ETA 750 Alien Employment Certification, approved by the United States Department of Labor (DOL). The director determined that the petitioner failed to establish that the beneficiary possessed the minimum experience requirements, failed to follow the DOL recruitment procedures in connection with the approved labor certification application and that the documents submitted in response to the director's Notice of Intent to Revoke (NOIR) were in themselves a willful misrepresentation of material facts, constituting fraud. Accordingly, the director revoked the approval of the petition under the authority of 8 C.F.R. § 205.1.

The AAO conducts appellate review on a de novo basis. See Soltane v. DOJ, 381 F.3d 143, 145 (3d Cir. 2004).

Although not raised by counsel, as a procedural matter, the AAO finds that 8 C.F.R. § 205.1 only applies to automatic revocation and is not the proper authority to be used to revoke the approval of the petition in this instant proceeding. Under 8 C.F.R. § 205.1(a)(3)(iii), a petition is automatically revoked if (A) the labor certification is invalidated pursuant to 20 C.F.R. § 656; (B) the petitioner or the beneficiary dies; (C) the petitioner withdraws the petition in writing; or (D) if the petitioner is no longer in business. Here, the labor certification has not been invalidated; neither the petitioner nor the beneficiary has died; the petitioner has not withdrawn the petition; nor has the petitioner gone out of business. Therefore, the approval of the petition cannot be automatically revoked. The director's erroneous citation of the applicable regulation is withdrawn. Nonetheless, as the director does have revocation authority under 8 C.F.R. § 205.2, the director's denial will be considered under that provision under the AAO's de novo review authority.

Upon review of the entire record, including evidence submitted on appeal, the AAO concludes that the record does not show inconsistencies or anomalies in the recruitment process that would justify the issuance of a NOIR based on the criteria of Matter of S & B-C-, 9 I&N Dec. 436, 447 (A.G. 1961). Similarly, there has been an insufficient development of the facts upon which the director can make a determination of fraud or willful misrepresentation in connection with the labor certification process. Id.

<sup>1</sup> Section 203(b)(3)(A)(i) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(3)(A)(i), provides for the granting of preference classification to qualified immigrants who are capable, at the time of petitioning for classification under this paragraph, of performing skilled labor (requiring at least two years training or experience), not of a temporary nature, for which qualified workers are not available in the United States.

The AAO finds that while the director appropriately reopened the approval of the petition by issuing the NOIR, the director's NOIR was deficient in that it did not specifically give the petitioner notice of the derogatory information specific to the current proceeding. In the NOIR, the director questioned the beneficiary's qualifications and indicated that the petitioner had not properly advertised for the position. The NOIR neither provided nor referred to specific evidence or information relating to the petitioner's failure to comply with DOL recruitment or to the beneficiary's lack of qualifications in the present case. The director did not state which recruitment procedures were defective. Without specifying or making available evidence specific to the petition in this case, the petitioner can have no meaningful opportunity to rebut or respond to that evidence. See Ghaly v. INS, 48 F.3d 1426, 1431 (7th Cir. 1995). Because of insufficient notice to the petitioner of derogatory information, the director's decision will be withdrawn.

To be eligible for approval, a beneficiary must have all the education, training, and experience specified on the labor certification as of the petition's priority date. See Matter of Wing's Tea House, 16 I&N 158 (Act. Reg. Comm. 1977). The priority date of the petition is April 5, 2001, which is the date the labor certification was accepted for processing by the DOL. See 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(d). Here, the petitioner has established that it is more likely than not that the beneficiary had all the education, training, and experience specified on the Form ETA 750 as of April 5, 2001. The AAO also finds that the petitioner has established the ability to pay the proffered wage from the priority date until 2011 when it sold the business to a successor-in-interest, which has established the ability to pay from 2011 onwards.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained, the director's decision to revoke the approval of the petition is withdrawn, and the petition's approval is reinstated.
