DISCUSSION: The Director, Texas Service Center (director), denied the employment-based immigrant visa petition. The petitioner appealed the decision to the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO). The appeal will be summarily dismissed as abandoned pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(13)(i).

The petitioner describes itself as a software consulting business. It seeks to permanently employ the beneficiary in the United States as a computer and information systems manager. The petitioner classification of the beneficiary as a Member of the Professions Holding an Advanced Degree or an Alien of Exceptional Ability pursuant to section 203(b)(2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(2). The petition is accompanied by a labor certification approved by the U.S. Department of Labor. The director's decision denying the petition concluded that the petitioner had not established that the beneficiary possessed all the education, training and experience specified on the labor certification application.

The record shows that the appeal is properly filed, timely, and makes a specific allegation of error in law or fact. The procedural history in this case is documented by the record and incorporated into the decision. Further elaboration of the procedural history will be made only as necessary.

The AAO conducts appellate review on a de novo basis. See Soltane v. DOJ, 381 F.3d 143, 145 (3d Cir. 2004). The AAO considers all pertinent evidence in the record, including new evidence properly submitted upon appeal.[1]

On January 24, 2013, the AAO sent the petitioner a request for evidence and notice of intent to dismiss the appeal (RFE/NOID). The RFE/NOID notified the petitioner that the evidence in the record is not sufficient to establish that the beneficiary possesses a U.S. master's degree in computer science, engineering, math or business administration or a foreign equivalent degree as required by the terms of the labor certification, that the beneficiary has the special skills required by the labor certification, or that the petitioner has the ability to pay the beneficiary the proffered wage. The RFE/NOID allowed the petitioner 84 days in which to submit a response. The AAO informed the petitioner that failure to respond to the RFE/NOID would result in a dismissal of the appeal.

As of the date of this decision, the petitioner has not responded to the AAO's RFE/NOID. The failure to submit requested evidence that precludes a material line of inquiry shall be grounds for denying the petition. See 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(14). Since the petitioner failed to respond to the RFE/NOID, the appeal will be summarily dismissed as abandoned pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(13)(i).

[1] The submission of additional evidence on appeal is allowed by the instructions to the Form I-290B, which are incorporated into the regulations by 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(a)(1). The record in the instant case provides no reason to preclude consideration of any of the documents newly submitted on appeal. See Matter of Soriano, 19 I&N Dec. 764 (BIA 1988).

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed as abandoned.
