Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center, denied the immigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed. The petition remains denied.

The petitioner seeks immigrant classification pursuant to section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act ("the Act"), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen.

The director denied the petition, after determining that the applicant had not established that he had been subjected to battery or extreme cruelty by a United States citizen and he had failed to establish that he entered into the marriage in good faith.

Section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Act provides that an alien who is the spouse of a United States citizen may self-petition for immigrant classification if the alien demonstrates that he or she entered into the marriage with the United States citizen in good faith and that during the marriage, the alien or a child of the alien was battered or subjected to extreme cruelty perpetrated by the alien's spouse. In addition, the alien must show that he or she is eligible to be classified as an immediate relative under section 201(b)(2)(A)(i) of the Act, resided with the abusive spouse, and is a person of good moral character. Section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii)(II) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii)(II).

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. §103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part: "An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal."

Counsel for the petitioner timely submits a Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, checking the box on the Form I-290B indicating that a brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted to the AAO within 30 days. Counsel's statement on the Form I-290B reads:

The Service erroneously denied the I-360 Petition for Amerasian, Widow, or Special Immigrant because applicant is an immigrant whose visa is immediately availability [sic] pursuant to filing of said application.

A thorough review of the record does not reveal that a brief and/or additional evidence has been submitted. The record is considered complete.

The director in this matter determined that the petitioner had not submitted sufficient probative evidence demonstrating that he had been subjected to battery or extreme cruelty perpetrated by the petitioner's United States citizen spouse and that he had entered into the marriage in good faith. Counsel does not provide any further evidence or argument on appeal. Counsel does not specifically address the issues of the petitioner's failure to establish that he had been subjected to battery or extreme cruelty by his United States spouse and that he had failed to establish that he had entered into the marriage in good faith by a preponderance of the evidence. We concur with the director's assessment of the relevant evidence. Neither counsel nor the petitioner identifies specifically an erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact in this proceeding. Accordingly, the appeal must be summarily dismissed.

In visa petition proceedings, the burden of proving eligibility for the benefit sought remains entirely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. Here, that burden has not been met.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed. The petition remains denied.
