DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center, denied the immigrant visa petition and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner seeks classification pursuant to section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen spouse.

The director denied the petition on August 18, 2010, finding that the petitioner failed to establish that she is a person of good moral character and that she entered into her marriage in good faith. The petitioner, through counsel, filed a timely appeal on September 20, 2010.

On the Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, counsel checked the block indicating that no supplemental brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted. Counsel states, "The record contains ample evidence of a joint residence, commingling of funds and a life together, within the context of a relatively short married life."

Although counsel disagrees with the director's decision, he does not provide a brief or other evidence to address the director's reasons for denying the petition.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Inasmuch as the petitioner has failed to specifically identify any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact as a basis for the appeal, the regulations mandate the summary dismissal of the appeal.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
