DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center, denied the immigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed. The petition remains denied.

The petitioner seeks immigrant classification pursuant to section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act ("the Act"), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen.

The director denied the petition, after determining that the petitioner had not established that: he resided with the claimed abusive spouse; he had been subjected to battery or extreme cruelty by a United States citizen; or he is a person of good moral character.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. §103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

The petitioner timely submits a Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, checking the box on the Form I-290B indicating that a supplemental brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted to the AAO in 30 days. On the Form I-290B, the petitioner states: "Please see attached." The only attachment to the Form I-290B is a copy of the director's decision and a request for a fee waiver. To date, no additional evidence or brief have been submitted. The record is considered complete.

The director in this matter determined that the petitioner had not submitted sufficient probative evidence demonstrating that he had resided with the claimed abusive spouse, he had been subjected to battery or extreme cruelty perpetrated by his United States citizen spouse, or he is a person of good moral character. We concur with the director's assessment of the relevant evidence. The petitioner does not provide any further evidence or argument on appeal that overcomes the director's decision. The petitioner fails to identify specifically an erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact in this proceeding. Accordingly, the appeal must be summarily dismissed pursuant to the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v).

In visa petition proceedings, the burden of proving eligibility for the benefit sought remains entirely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. Here, that burden has not been met.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed. The petition remains denied.
