DISCUSSION: The Vermont Service Center Director (the director) revoked approval of the immigrant visa petition after properly notifying the petitioner and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner seeks immigrant classification under section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen.

The director revoked the petition on notice on October 19, 2012 after he determined that the petitioner had not established that she resided with her husband, entered their marriage in good faith, and that she had been subjected to battery or extreme cruelty by her husband. The director further concluded that the petitioner married her husband to circumvent immigration laws.

On appeal, the petitioner, through counsel, submitted a Notice of Appeal (Form I-290B), indicating that a legal brief in support of the appeal would be submitted by December 6, 2012. To date, over four months later, the AAO has received no further brief or evidence from counsel or the petitioner.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

On the Form I-290B, counsel expresses disagreement with the director's decision, but fails to identify any specific erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact in the director's decision and the AAO has received no further evidence or brief in support of the appeal. Accordingly, the appeal must be summarily dismissed.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden and the appeal will be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
