DISCUSSION: The Acting Director, Vermont Service Center, (“the director”) denied the immigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner seeks immigrant classification under section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen. The director denied the petition because the record failed to establish that the petitioner was a person of good moral character.

The petitioner fails to attach a statement with the Form I-290B appeal notice that specifically identifies an erroneous conclusion of law or fact in the decision being appealed. The petitioner indicates that a brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted within 30 days of filing the appeal notice. The appeal notice was filed on June 23, 2014. As of the date of this decision, we have not received any new evidence or a brief specifically addressing the director’s decision.

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v). As the petitioner has not identified any specific, erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact in the director’s decision, the appeal must be summarily dismissed in accordance with 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v).

In visa petition proceedings, it is the petitioner's burden to establish eligibility for the immigration benefit sought. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361; Matter of Otiende, 26 I&N Dec. 127, 128 (BIA 2013). Here, that burden has not been met.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
