

identifying data deleted to prevent clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy

PUBLIC COPY

U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U. S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
Office of Administrative Appeals MS 2090
Washington, DC 20529-2090

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services

C1

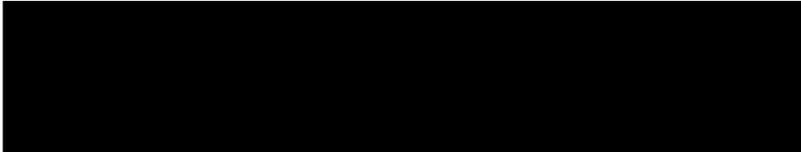

FILE: WAC 09 004 51858 Office: CALIFORNIA SERVICE CENTER Date APR 08 2010

IN RE: Petitioner: [Redacted]
Beneficiary: [Redacted]

PETITION: Immigrant Petition for Special Immigrant Religious Worker Pursuant to Section 203(b)(4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(4), as described at Section 101(a)(27)(C) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(27)(C)

ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER:

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Perry Rhew
Perry Rhew
Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, California Service Center, denied the employment-based immigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The decision of the director will be withdrawn and the petition will be remanded for further action and consideration.

The petitioner “is a Roman Catholic social service organization.” It seeks to classify the beneficiary as a special immigrant religious worker pursuant to section 203(b)(4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(4), to perform services as a social worker. The director determined that the petitioner has not submitted the required attestation signed by an authorized official of the organization.

Counsel asserts on appeal that the attestation was signed by the director of the petitioning organization who “has signed all previous applications made on behalf of the beneficiary, including the two successful R1 petitions.” Counsel submits a brief in support of the appeal.

Section 203(b)(4) of the Act provides classification to qualified special immigrant religious workers as described in section 101(a)(27)(C) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(27)(C), which pertains to an immigrant who:

(i) for at least 2 years immediately preceding the time of application for admission, has been a member of a religious denomination having a bona fide nonprofit, religious organization in the United States;

(ii) seeks to enter the United States –

(I) solely for the purpose of carrying on the vocation of a minister of that religious denomination,

(II) before September 30, 2012, in order to work for the organization at the request of the organization in a professional capacity in a religious vocation or occupation, or

(III) before September 30, 2012, in order to work for the organization (or for a bona fide organization which is affiliated with the religious denomination and is exempt from taxation as an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) at the request of the organization in a religious vocation or occupation; and

(iii) has been carrying on such vocation, professional work, or other work continuously for at least the 2-year period described in clause (i).

The issue presented on appeal is whether the petitioner has submitted an attestation signed by an authorized official of the organization.

The petition, signed by [REDACTED] was filed on October 6, 2008. On November 26, 2008, as required under section 2(b)(1) of the Special Immigrant Nonminister Religious Worker Program Act, Pub. L. No. 110-391, 122 Stat. 4193 (2008), U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) promulgated a rule setting forth new regulations for special immigrant religious worker petitions. 73 Fed. Reg. 72276 (Nov. 26, 2008). Supplementary information published with the new rule specified: "All cases pending on the rule's effective date . . . will be adjudicated under the standards of this rule. If documentation is required under this rule that was not required before, the petition will not be denied. Instead the petitioner will be allowed a reasonable period of time to provide the required evidence or information." 73 Fed. Reg. 72276, 72285 (Nov. 26, 2008).

The new USCIS regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(m)(7) requires the petitioner to submit the following:

Attestation. An authorized official of the prospective employer of an alien seeking religious worker status must complete, sign and date an attestation prescribed by USCIS and submit it along with the petition. If the alien is a self-petitioner and is also an authorized official of the prospective employer, the self-petitioner may sign the attestation. The prospective employer must specifically attest to all of the following:

- (i) That the prospective employer is a bona fide non-profit religious organization or a bona fide organization which is affiliated with the religious denomination and is exempt from taxation;
- (ii) The number of members of the prospective employer's organization;
- (iii) The number of employees who work at the same location where the beneficiary will be employed and a summary of the type of responsibilities of those employees. USCIS may request a list of all employees, their titles, and a brief description of their duties at its discretion;
- (iv) The number of aliens holding special immigrant or nonimmigrant religious worker status currently employed or employed within the past five years by the prospective employer's organization;
- (v) The number of special immigrant religious worker and nonimmigrant religious worker petitions and applications filed by or on behalf of any aliens for employment by the prospective employer in the past five years;
- (vi) The title of the position offered to the alien, the complete package of salaried or non-salaried compensation being offered, and a detailed description of the alien's proposed daily duties;

- (vii) That the alien will be employed at least 35 hours per week;
- (viii) The specific location(s) of the proposed employment;
- (ix) That the alien has worked as a religious worker for the two years immediately preceding the filing of the application and is otherwise qualified for the position offered;
- (x) That the alien has been a member of the denomination for at least two years immediately preceding the filing of the application;
- (xi) That the alien will not be engaged in secular employment, and any salaried or non-salaried compensation for the work will be paid to the alien by the attesting employer; and
- (xii) That the prospective employer has the ability and intention to compensate the alien at a level at which the alien and accompanying family members will not become public charges, and that funds to pay the alien's compensation do not include any monies obtained from the alien, excluding reasonable donations or tithing to the religious organization.

On February 3, 2009, the director issued a request for evidence (RFE) requesting, among other things, that the petitioner complete the attestation required by the new USCIS regulation. In response, the petitioner submitted an attestation signed by [REDACTED] and addressing each of the issues required by the regulation. Information submitted about the petitioning organization indicates that [REDACTED] "is pastor of St. Rose of Lima Parish and founder of" the petitioning organization.

In denying the petition, the director did not specify why the attestation did not meet the requirements of the regulation, and the AAO can discern no deficiencies that would require rejection of the attestation submitted by the petitioner. Accordingly, the director's decision is withdrawn.

Nonetheless, the petition cannot be approved as the record now stands.

The petitioner has not established it is a bona fide nonprofit religious organization. The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(m)(5) provides:

Bona fide non-profit religious organization in the United States means a religious organization exempt from taxation as described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code [IRC] of 1986, subsequent amendment or equivalent sections of prior enactments of the [IRC], and possessing a currently valid determination letter from the IRS [Internal Revenue Service] confirming such exemption.

Bona fide organization which is affiliated with the religious denomination means an organization which is closely associated with the religious denomination and which is exempt from taxation as described in section 501(c)(3) of [IRC] of 1986, subsequent amendment or equivalent sections of prior enactments of the [IRC] and possessing a currently valid determination letter from the IRS confirming such exemption.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(m)(8) provides:

A petition shall include the following initial evidence relating to the petitioning organization:

(i) A currently valid determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) establishing that the organization is a tax-exempt organization; or

(ii) For a religious organization that is recognized as tax-exempt under a group tax-exemption, a currently valid determination letter from the IRS establishing that the group is tax-exempt; or

(iii) For a bona fide organization that is affiliated with the religious denomination, if the organization was granted tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, or subsequent amendment or equivalent sections of prior enactments of the Internal Revenue Code [IRC], as something other than a religious organization:

(A) A currently valid determination letter from the IRS [Internal Revenue Service] establishing that the organization is a tax-exempt organization;

(B) Documentation that establishes the religious nature and purpose of the organization, such as a copy of the organizing instrument of the organization that specifies the purposes of the organization;

(C) Organizational literature, such as books, articles, brochures, calendars, flyers and other literature describing the religious purpose and nature of the activities of the organization; and

(D) A religious denomination certification. The religious organization must complete, sign and date a religious denomination certification certifying that the petitioning organization is affiliated with the religious denomination. The certification is to be submitted by the petitioner along with the petition.

The petitioner submitted a letter from the IRS granting it tax exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the IRC as an organization described under sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi). The petitioner's tax-exempt status therefore derives from classification not under section 170(b)(1)(A)(i) of the IRC, which pertains to churches, but rather under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the IRC, which pertains to publicly-supported organizations as described in section 170(c)(2) of the IRC, "organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes," or for other specified purposes. This section refers in part to religious organization, but to many types of secular organizations as well.

An organization that qualifies for tax exemption as a publicly supported organization under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the IRC can be either religious or non-religious. The burden of proof is on the petitioner to establish that its classification under section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) derives primarily from its religious character, rather than from its status as a publicly supported charitable or other institution.

The petitioner submitted documentation about itself, indicating that it is "a community development corporation which grew out of the Civil Rights Movement and derives its energy from the power of religious experience." The documentation also indicates that the petitioner "is the largest development corporation in the United States as well as New Jersey's largest non-profit housing corporation" and that it "provides a full range of services for each development, including property management, maintenance, security, and social services." The petitioner did not submit a copy of its articles of incorporation or by-laws and did not submit a certification from its denomination certifying its affiliation with the denomination.

On remand, the director shall address whether the petitioner is a bona fide non-profit religious organization.

The petitioner has also failed to establish that the proffered position qualifies as that of a religious occupation or vocation. The beneficiary is a nun. However, the proffered position is that of a social worker and the petitioner has not established that the beneficiary will be practicing her vocation of nun. On remand, the director shall address whether the beneficiary seeks to enter the United States for the purpose of working in a qualifying religious occupation or vocation.

Additionally, the petitioner has failed to establish that the beneficiary has the requisite two years of continuous experience in the proffered position.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(m) provides that to be eligible for classification as a special immigrant religious worker, the alien must:

- (4) Have been working in one of the positions described in paragraph (m)(2) of this section, either abroad or in lawful immigration status in the United States, and after the age of 14 years continuously for at least the two-year period immediately preceding the filing of the petition. The prior religious work need not correspond precisely to the type of work to be performed. A break in the continuity of the work during the preceding two years will not affect eligibility so long as:

- (i) The alien was still employed as a religious worker;
- (ii) The break did not exceed two years; and
- (iii) The nature of the break was for further religious training or for sabbatical that did not involve unauthorized work in the United States. However, the alien must have been a member of the petitioner's denomination throughout the two years of qualifying employment.

The petition was filed on October 6, 2008. Accordingly, the petitioner must establish that the beneficiary had been continuously employed in qualifying religious work throughout the two-year period immediately preceding that date.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(m)(11) provides:

Evidence relating to the alien's prior employment. Qualifying prior experience during the two years immediately preceding the petition or preceding any acceptable break in the continuity of the religious work, must have occurred after the age of 14, and if acquired in the United States, must have been authorized under United States immigration law. If the alien was employed in the United States during the two years immediately preceding the filing of the application and:

- (i) Received salaried compensation, the petitioner must submit IRS [Internal Revenue Service] documentation that the alien received a salary, such as an IRS Form W-2 or certified copies of income tax returns.
- (ii) Received non-salaried compensation, the petitioner must submit IRS documentation of the non-salaried compensation if available.
- (iii) Received no salary but provided for his or her own support, and provided support for any dependents, the petitioner must show how support was maintained by submitting with the petition additional documents such as audited financial statements, financial institution records, brokerage account statements, trust documents signed by an attorney, or other verifiable evidence acceptable to USCIS.

If the alien was employed outside the United States during such two years, the petitioner must submit comparable evidence of the religious work.

The record reflects that the beneficiary entered the United States on August 28, 2004 pursuant to an F-1 student visa. On August 8, 2007, the beneficiary was approved for an R-1 nonimmigrant religious worker visa valid until February 28, 2009. The beneficiary indicated on her Form G-325A, Biographic Information, that she worked as a dietary aide with the petitioning organization from November 2005 to June 2008 and as a social worker from June 2008 to the date the petition was filed. The record contains no documentation such as an IRS Form W-2 to corroborate any work performed by the beneficiary during 2006. On remand, the director shall address whether the beneficiary has the required two years continuous experience in a qualifying religious vocation or occupation.

This matter will be remanded. The director may request any additional evidence deemed warranted and should allow the petitioner to submit additional evidence in support of its position within a reasonable period of time. As always in these proceedings, the burden of proof rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The director's decision is withdrawn. The petition is remanded to the director for further action in accordance with the foregoing and entry of a new decision, which, if adverse to the petitioner, is to be certified to the AAO for review.