DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner is a church. It seeks to classify the beneficiary as a special immigrant religious worker pursuant to section 203(b)(4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(4), to perform services as a deacon. The director determined that the petitioner had not established that the beneficiary worked continuously in a qualifying religious occupation or vocation for two full years immediately preceding the filing of the petition.

The petitioner timely filed a Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, in which he states that counsel was on vacation and would not return until approximately January 13, 2010. The petitioner stated on the Form I-290B that a brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted to the AAO within 30 days. As of the date of this decision, however, more than 15 months after the appeal was filed, the AAO has received no further documentation. Therefore, the record will be considered complete as presently constituted.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

The petitioner has failed to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact in this proceeding; therefore, the appeal must be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
