DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center (the director), denied the nonimmigrant visa petition and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed and the petition will remain denied.

The petitioner seeks nonimmigrant classification under section 101(a)(15)(U) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(U), as an alien victim of certain qualifying criminal activity.

The director denied the petition for failure to submit a Form I-918, Supplement B, as initial evidence. On appeal, the petitioner submits Notice of Appeal (Form I-290B) in which he states that he was a victim of “gunpoint robbery/assault” and that the police report that he submitted shows that he was helpful in the investigation of the crime. The petitioner also notes that he identified the perpetrator in a line-up, and that the perpetrator was subsequently convicted and remains incarcerated.

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v).

In this case, the petitioner fails to identify any specific, erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact in the director’s decision. Furthermore, in his appeal, the petitioner still fails to provide a Form I-918, Supplement B. The petitioner provides no legal or factual basis for the appeal. Consequently, the appeal must be summarily dismissed in accordance with 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v).

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden and the appeal will be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
