DISCUSSION: The Director of the Vermont Service Center (the director) denied the Petition for Qualifying Family Member of a U-1 Nonimmigrant (Form I-929), and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed. The petition will remain denied.

The petitioner was granted U-1 nonimmigrant status and subsequently became a lawful permanent resident of the United States under section 245(m)(1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1255(m)(1). She seeks to obtain lawful permanent resident status on the beneficiary's behalf pursuant to section 245(m)(3) of the Act.

The director denied the petition because a qualifying relationship no longer existed between the petitioner and the beneficiary.

On appeal, counsel submitted a Notice of Appeal (Form I-290B), indicating that a brief would be submitted to the AAO within 30 days, or by April 23, 2012. Counsel left blank Part 3 of the Form I-290B where the petitioner provides the basis for the appeal. As of this date, no brief or other evidence has been submitted into the record.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Neither the petitioner nor counsel identifies any specific erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact in the director's decision and the AAO has received no evidence or brief in support of the appeal. Accordingly, the appeal must be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed. The petition remains denied.
