DISCUSSION: The service center director denied the nonimmigrant visa petition. The matter is now on appeal before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO). The appeal will be dismissed as the matter is now moot.

On the Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker (Form I-129), the petitioner describes itself as a publisher established in 2002. In order to employ the beneficiary in what it designates as an "Editor" position, the petitioner seeks to classify her as a nonimmigrant worker in a specialty occupation pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b).

The director denied the petition on the grounds that the petitioner failed to establish that the proffered position qualifies for classification as a specialty occupation in accordance with the applicable statutory and regulatory provisions. The petitioner filed a timely appeal of the decision. On appeal, the petitioner's counsel asserts that the director's basis for denial was erroneous. In support of this assertion, counsel submits a brief and additional evidence.

A review of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) records indicates that this beneficiary is also the beneficiary of an approved immigrant petition and has adjusted status to that of a lawful conditional permanent resident as of January 16, 2014. While the petitioner has not withdrawn the appeal in this proceeding, it would appear that the beneficiary is presently a lawful conditional permanent resident and the issues in this proceeding are moot. Therefore, this appeal is dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed as moot.
