DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was revoked by the service center director and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed as the matter is now moot.

The petitioner submitted a Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker (Form I-129) to the California Service Center on May 18, 2011. In the Form I-129 visa petition, the petitioner describes itself as a business that was established in 1999. In order to employ the beneficiary in what it designates as a programmer analyst position, the petitioner sought to classify her as a nonimmigrant worker in a specialty occupation pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b).

The petition was initially approved; however, the director subsequently issued a Notice of Intent to Revoke (NOIR) the approval of the petition. After reviewing the petitioner's response to the NOIR, the director determined that the petitioner had not overcome the grounds for revocation and revoked the approval of the petition. On appeal, counsel asserts that the director's bases for revocation of the approval of the petition were erroneous.

A review of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) records indicates that the petitioner subsequently filed a new Form I-129 petition on behalf of the beneficiary. USCIS records further indicate that this petition was approved and granted the beneficiary H-1B classification from June 17, 2013 to February 12, 2015. Because the beneficiary in the instant petition has been approved for H-1B employment with the petitioner, further pursuit of the matter at hand is moot.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
