DISCUSSION: The service center director denied the nonimmigrant visa petition and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a citizen of the United States who seeks to classify the beneficiary, a citizen of Myanmar, as the fiancé(e) of a United States citizen pursuant to § 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(K).

The director denied the petition, pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(8)(ii), because the petitioner did not submit required initial evidence. On appeal, the petitioner submits additional evidence and a statement on the Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion.

Applicable Law

A “fiancé(e)” is defined at section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Act as someone who:

subject to subsections (d) and (p) of section 214, [is] an alien who—

- (i) is the fiancée or fiancé of a citizen of the United States . . . and who seeks to enter the United States solely to conclude a valid marriage with the petitioner within ninety days after admission[.]

Section 214(d)(1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1184(d)(1), states in pertinent part that a fiancé(e) petition:

shall be approved only after satisfactory evidence is submitted by the petitioner to establish that the parties have previously met in person within 2 years before the date of filing the petition, have a bona fide intention to marry, and are legally able and actually willing to conclude a valid marriage in the United States within a period of ninety days after the alien’s arrival, except that the Secretary of Homeland Security in [her] discretion may waive the requirement that the parties have previously met in person. . . .

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(8)(ii) states that if all required initial evidence is not submitted with the petition or the petitioner does not demonstrate eligibility, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) may, in its discretion, deny the petition for lack of initial evidence. The specific requirements for filing a Petition for Alien Fiancé(e) (Form I-129F), including a description of the required initial evidence, may be found in the Instructions to the Form I-129F.<sup>1</sup>

Pertinent Facts and Procedural History

The petitioner filed the instant petition on February 2, 2011 with no supporting evidence, and the director denied it on May 25, 2011. On appeal, the petitioner submits pictures of himself and his fiancée together; a copy of the biographical data page of his passport; and a June 7, 2011 statement in which he briefly discussed his relationship with his fiancée.

The AAO conducts appellate review on a de novo basis. See Soltane v. DOJ, 381 F.3d 143, 145 (3d Cir. 2004). Upon review of the entire record, we find that the petitioner has failed to overcome the director's ground for denying this petition.

The petitioner has submitted some, but not all, of the required initial evidence. The record still lacks the following: (1) original statements from the petitioner and the beneficiary regarding their relationship and intent to marry within 90 days of the beneficiary's arrival in the United States; (2) two Forms G-325A, Biographic Information: one executed by the petitioner, and one executed by the beneficiary; and (3) four passport-style color photographs: two of the petitioner, and two of the beneficiary. Absent all required initial evidence, USCIS cannot adjudicate the case on its merits.

Conclusion

The petitioner has still failed to submit all required initial evidence on appeal. Accordingly, the beneficiary is ineligible for nonimmigrant classification under section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Act and this petition must remain denied.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden and the appeal will be dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
