Acting Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director of the Vermont Service Center (the director) denied the nonimmigrant visa petition, and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be sustained and the petition will be approved.

The petitioner is a citizen of the United States who seeks to classify the beneficiary, a native and citizen of Thailand, as the fiancé(e) of a United States citizen pursuant to § 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(K).

The director denied the nonimmigrant visa petition pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(8)(ii) because the petitioner failed to submit required initial evidence. On appeal, the petitioner submits a statement and additional evidence.

A "fiancé(e)" is defined at Section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Act as:

subject to subsections (d) and (p) of section 214, an alien who -

(i) is the fiancée or fiancé of a citizen of the United States . . . and who seeks to enter the United States solely to conclude a valid marriage with the petitioner within ninety days after admission[.]

Section 214(d)(1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1184(d)(1), states in pertinent part that a fiancé(e) petition:

shall be approved only after satisfactory evidence is submitted by the petitioner to establish that the parties have previously met in person within 2 years before the date of filing the petition, have a bona fide intention to marry, and are legally able and actually willing to conclude a valid marriage in the United States within a period of ninety days after the alien's arrival, except that the Secretary of Homeland Security in [her] discretion may waive the requirement that the parties have previously met in person. . . .

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(8)(ii) states that if all required initial evidence is not submitted with the petition or does not demonstrate eligibility, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) may, in its discretion, deny the petition for lack of initial evidence. The specific requirements for filing a Petition for Alien Fiancé(e) (Form I-129F), including a description of the required initial evidence, may be found in the Instructions to the Form I-129F.

The petitioner filed the fiancé(e) petition with USCIS on June 7, 2011. On September 16, 2011, the director issued a request for evidence (RFE) seeking, in part, evidence of the lawful termination of the beneficiary's marriage; however, the petitioner failed to respond to this part of the director's request, and the director denied the petition because the beneficiary was not legally able to conclude a valid marriage with the petitioner. On appeal, the petitioner submitted English translations of Thai documents, but failed to submit the Thai documents relating to the translations. On September 25, 2012, the AAO issued a request for evidence (AAO RFE) to the petitioner for the Thai documents along with a complete copy of the petitioner's U.S. passport. The petitioner responded to the AAO RFE with the requested evidence.

Now that the petitioner has submitted documentation to meet all of the Form I-129F evidentiary requirements, the AAO will sustain the petitioner's appeal and approve the petition. The petitioner has established that the beneficiary is legally able to enter into a valid marriage with him upon her entry into the United States in K-1 status.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. Here, the petitioner has met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained. The petition is approved.
