Acting Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center (the director), denied the nonimmigrant visa petition, and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be sustained and the petition will be approved.

The petitioner is a citizen of the United States who seeks to classify the beneficiary, a citizen of Thailand, as the fiancée of a United States citizen pursuant to § 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. §. 1101(a)(15)(K).

The director denied the nonimmigrant visa petition pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(8)(ii) because the petitioner failed to submit required initial evidence. On appeal, the petitioner submits a statement and additional evidence.

Applicable Law

A "fiancé(e)" is defined at Section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Act as:

subject to subsections (d) and (p) of section 214, an alien who -

(i) is the fiancée or fiancé of a citizen of the United States . . . and who seeks to enter the United States solely to conclude a valid marriage with the petitioner within ninety days after admission[.]

Section 214(d)(1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1184(d)(1), states in pertinent part that a fiancé(e) petition:

shall be approved only after satisfactory evidence is submitted by the petitioner to establish that the parties have previously met in person within 2 years before the date of filing the petition, have a bona fide intention to marry, and are legally able and actually willing to conclude a valid marriage in the United States within a period of ninety days after the alien's arrival, except that the Secretary of Homeland Security in [her] discretion may waive the requirement that the parties have previously met in person. . . .

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(8)(ii) states that if all required initial evidence is not submitted with the petition or does not demonstrate eligibility, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) may, in its discretion, deny the petition for lack of initial evidence. The specific requirements for filing a Petition for Alien Fiancé(e) (Form I-129F), including a description of the required initial evidence, may be found in the Instructions to the Form I-129F.

Factual and Procedural History

The petitioner filed the fiancée petition with USCIS on December 15, 2011 without any supporting evidence. For this reason, the director denied the petition on July 26, 2012. On appeal, the petitioner provides additional evidence which includes the following: the petitioner's U.S. passport showing that he traveled to Thailand in February of 2011; the petitioner's Connecticut birth certificate; a Form G-325A, Biographic Information, for the petitioner and the beneficiary; two passport-style color photographs of the petitioner and the beneficiary; original statements from the petitioner and the beneficiary to establish their mutual intent to marry within 90 days of the beneficiary's admission into the United States in K-1 status; photographs of the petitioner and the beneficiary together; and evidence of the termination of the petitioner's previous marriages.

Analysis

The petitioner has submitted on appeal all of the required initial evidence, including: proof of the petitioner's U.S. citizenship; a Form G-325A, Biographic Information, for the petitioner and the beneficiary; two (2) passport-style color photographs of the petitioner and the beneficiary; original statements from the petitioner and the beneficiary to establish their mutual intent to marry within 90 days of the beneficiary's admission into the United States in K-1 status; evidence that the petitioner and the beneficiary have met in person between December 15, 2009 and December 15, 2011, which is the two-year period immediately preceding the filing of the petition; and evidence that the petitioner was free to marry the beneficiary at the time of filing the Form I-129F.

Now that the petitioner has submitted documentation to meet all of the Form I-129F evidentiary requirements, the AAO will sustain the petitioner's appeal and approve the petition.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. Here, the petitioner has met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained. The petition is approved.
