DISCUSSION: The waiver application was denied by the Acting Field Office Director, Detroit, Michigan, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The record reflects that on July 12, 2012, counsel for the applicant's spouse forwarded a letter to USCIS. Therein, the applicant's spouse stated that he wished to withdraw the Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, because he and the applicant are in the process of divorcing. A judgment of divorce, dated October 16, 2012, was also submitted. Accordingly, the Form I-130 Petition for Alien Relative is withdrawn. This withdrawal cannot be retracted. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(6).

The filing of a Form I-601 waiver application is predicated on the necessity to demonstrate admissibility, which in this case is a requirement for adjustment to permanent resident status under section 245 of the Act. Although USCIS allows for the simultaneous filing of Forms I-130 and I-485, the applicant's eligibility to apply for adjustment to permanent resident status is dependent on approval of the Form I-130 petition filed by his spouse.

The purpose of the Form I-130 petition is to establish for immigration purposes the validity of the marriage relationship between the applicant and her spouse. In the absence of an approved I-130 petition, the applicant is not entitled to apply for adjustment of status, and her application for adjustment cannot be approved regardless of whether she is admissible or, if not, whether a waiver is available for any ground of inadmissibility.

In the absence of an underlying approved Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, the Form I-601, Application for Waiver of Grounds of Inadmissibility, is moot. The appeal of the denial of the waiver must therefore be dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
