IN RE:

Applicant:

APPLICATION:

Application for Adjustment from Temporary to Permanent Resident Status under Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. If your appeal was dismissed or rejected, all documents have been returned to the National Benefits Center. You no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case. If your appeal was sustained or remanded for further action, you will be contacted.

 Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for adjustment from temporary to permanent resident status was denied by the District Director, Los Angeles, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director determined that the applicant had been convicted of four misdemeanor offenses and was therefore statutorily ineligible for permanent residence.<sup>1</sup>

On appeal, the applicant did not contest the basis for the denial. Rather, the applicant states that he is not giving up in his attempt to obtain permanent residence and suggests that he would have obtained U.S. citizenship if he had not missed his "last renewal in 1994-95."

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed.

A review of the decision reveals the director accurately set forth a legitimate basis for denial of the application. On appeal, the applicant has not presented further evidence, nor has he addressed the criminal convictions that form the basis for denial. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.

<sup>1</sup> The record shows that the applicant was actually convicted of five misdemeanor offenses. However, as the AAO will summarily dismiss this appeal without specifically addressing the basis for denial, the director's harmless error is only noted for the record and need not be discussed further.
