Please refer to 8 C.F.R. § 103.5 for the specific requirements. All motions must be submitted to the office that originally decided your case by filing a Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, with a fee of $585. Any motion must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider, as required by 8 C.F.R. 103.5(a)(1)(i).

Perry Rhew
Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center. An untimely appeal was treated as a Motion to Reopen and was denied again by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The applicant appealed the director's decision on the motion and it is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed a TPS application during the initial registration period on August 8, 2001. The Director, California Service Center, approved that application on March 16, 2002.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted Temporary Protected Status under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status. 8.C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1).

The director determined that the applicant had failed to submit requested evidence necessary for the proper adjudication of the application.

On appeal, counsel for the applicant states that the applicant was not convicted of two misdemeanors. The AAO concurred with the director's decision and also found that the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors. In addition, the AAO determined that the applicant failed to establish his continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States during the qualifying period. The AAO allowed the applicant to submit additional evidence to establish his continuous residence and continuous physical presence.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state as designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and

- (f) (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period, announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or
- (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation, if at the time of the initial registration period:
- (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
- (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
- (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or
- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.

The term continuously physically present, as used in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

The term continuously resided, as used in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual, and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

Persons applying for TPS offered to El Salvadorans must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States since February 13, 2001, and that they have been continuously physically present in the United States since March 9, 2001. On July 9, 2002, the Attorney General announced an extension of the TPS designation until September 9, 2003. Subsequent extensions of the TPS designation have been granted, with the latest extension granted until September 10, 2010, upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite period.

The initial registration period for El Salvadorans was from March 9, 2001 through September 9, 2002. The record shows that the applicant filed his initial TPS application on August 8, 2001.

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof, the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

The record shows that the applicant filed his TPS application on August 8, 2001. On May 1, 2009, the applicant was provided the opportunity to submit evidence establishing continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, and continuous physical presence in the United States from March 9, 2001, to the filing date of the application. The applicant, in response, provided:

1. Copies of an Operator Summary from the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles and an Insurance Policy History indicating insurance policy activity from November 4, 1998 to July 18, 2007.
2. A copy of an Insurance Statement from the Commerce Insurance Company indicating coverage from April 4, 2002 through April 4, 2003.
3. A copy of an Application for Massachusetts Motor Vehicle Insurance for a policy effective from March 13, 2000 through March 13, 2001.
4. Copies of an unsigned 2001 Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return and an unsigned Form 1, Massachusetts Resident Income Tax Return.
5. Copies of Money Order receipts dated August 2, 2001 and a hand-written receipt for cash paid to Cores, Inc. for TPS dated August 2, 2001.

The insurance documentation indicates that the applicant obtained insurance, but it does not establish the applicant's continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States during the qualifying periods. Similarly, the tax documents indicate the applicant was present and working in the United States in 2001, but, can not establish the applicant's continuous residence since February 13, 2001, and continuous physical presence in the United States from March 9, 2001 to the filing date of the TPS application. The application for insurance, the money order receipts and the hand-written receipt are all dated subsequent to the qualifying dates to establish continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States. Therefore, this evidence is of little or no probative value.

The applicant has not submitted sufficient evidence to establish that he has met the criteria for continuous residence and continuous physical presence described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for temporary protected status will be affirmed.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
