IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:
[REDACTED]

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the Vermont Service Center. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied or you have additional information that you wish to have considered, you may file a motion to reconsider or a motion to reopen. Please refer to 8 C.F.R. § 103.5 for the specific requirements. All motions must be submitted to the office that originally decided your case by filing a Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, with a fee of $585. Any motion must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider, as required by 8 C.F.R. 103.5(a)(1)(i).

Perry Rhew
Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The application is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because he determined that the applicant was ineligible for TPS because the applicant ordered, incited, assisted or otherwise participated in the persecution of others.

On appeal, counsel for the applicant states that there is no evidence other than in the El Rescate Database that the applicant persecuted or aided in persecution.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national of a state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
  - (1) Registers for Temporary Protected Status during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
  - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
    - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
    - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
    - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or

- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.

Section 208(b)(2)(A)(i) of the Act states in pertinent part:

- (A) In general – Paragraph (1) shall not apply to an alien if the Attorney General determines that that – (i) the alien ordered, incited, assisted or otherwise participated in the persecution of any person on account of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion.

The records contains testimony from the applicant on February 25, 2009, that he had voluntarily served in the El Salvadoran military as a marine from 1984 to 1986. The applicant testified that he worked in San Salvador on radio transmissions between different units of the army; that he wore a uniform, and carried an M -16 rifle. According to the applicant, he was involved in combat one time and patrolled villages two or three times a month looking for suspected guerillas who he was commanded to take back to the base. The applicant further testified that he believed the individuals were interrogated, and that if the suspected guerillas did not say anything, they were taken to the beach and killed by the death squad. According to the El Rescate database, country conditions indicate that during the time frame the applicant served, the Salvadoran Army perpetrated numerous human rights abuses. The applicant testified that he followed commands to bring suspected guerilla members back to the base, and that he believed these suspects were killed if they did not say anything. The applicant also testified that there were times when he was instructed by the Sergeant to hit people who were suspected of being guerillas. The persecutor bar applies even if the applicant did not personally commit the persecutory act, so long as the applicant ordered, incited, assisted, or otherwise participated in the persecution of any person on account of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion. Therefore, the applicant was determined to be ineligible for TPS.

On appeal, counsel states that that there is no evidence that the applicant persecuted or aided in persecution other than the El Rescate Database. However, this assertion contradicts the applicant's own testimony. Moreover, no evidence has been provided by the applicant that could establish that he did not persecute or assist in the persecution of others. Consequently, the director's decision is affirmed.

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
